WARREN APPOINTED U.S. CHIEF JUSTICE

Vishinsky Blasts U.N. Stand on Korea Talks

KIDNAPED BOY AND FATHER. Robert C. Greenlease Jr., 6-year-old whom police say was kidnaped from a private school in Kansas City, is shown with his father, Robert C. Greenlease Sr., wealthy Kansas City auto dealer. Officers said the boy was lured from the exclusive Catholic school by a woman who told nuns that the boy's mother was ill. The parents, who live in the fashionable Mission Hills, district, have a daughter, Virginia, 11, in addition to the missing boy.

Let Neutrals In or Parley Off, He Says

Demands Assembly Reconsider Its Vote In Immediate Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Chief Soviet delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky told the United Nations today "there was no possibility of hoping" that the proposed Korean political conference will meet unless the U.N. reconsiders its previous decision.

Vishinsky referred to a U.N. decision taken last month to exclude neutrals from the conference which is schedcled to open by Oct. 28.

The fiery Russian demanded that the 60-nation Political Committee take up immediately a debate on suggestions from Communist China and North Korea that India and other neutrals be invited and Russia be asked to sit in also as a neutral.

Scorns Lodge

He heaped scorn on a proposal by chief U. S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. that the conference could decide for itself whether to invite some neutral powers.

It would be impossible to give delegates the proper instructions to do so, he declared, and charged that the countries which opposed an invitation to India and other neutrals here would continue their opposition at the conference.

Referring to Allied claims that more debate here would disturb the prospects of a successful conference, Vishinsky asked:

"How can anyone say we should not disturb the peace conference if there is no peace conference?"

Before the meeting, the United States and Britain were confident they had enough votes to prevent reopening of debate on the question. Whether Vishinsky's warning on possible collapse of conference plans would have an adverse effect was not immediately apparent.

Today's first meeting of the 60-nation Assembly Political Committee was the scene for a decisive third round in the Red battle to get consideration at once of Communist demands to expand the Korean peace conference to a round table including neutrals.

Vishinsky Serves Notice

Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky had served notice that he would demand that the committee take up Korea as its first agenda item.

Led by the United States and Britain, the 16 U.N. members which sent troops to Korea strongly opposed any such discussion until the proposed political conference gets well under way. They planned to move for postponement of the Korean question until late fall — the conference is supposed to start Oct. 28 — and claimed enough votes to put this over.

The Allies won the first two rounds of the battle with Vishinsky last week when the Steering Committee and the Assembly both spurned Russian attempts to upset the previous U.N. decision that the Korean conference should be a two-sided parley of belligerents.

U. S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. took a lot of wind out of the Red sails last week when he suggested that the conference itself decide whether to invite other countries.

France, among others, hailed that idea and said she would work for an invitation for India.

But the French were not so happy about another item on the Political Committee worksheet—Asian-Arab charges that France's treatment of Moroccan and Tunisian nationalists threatens peace. The French are expected to walk out when the charges come up for debate in the near future.

Other items on the committee's agenda are disarmament, the recurrent Communist charges that the United States used germ warfare in Korea, and Burma's charge that Nationalist Chinese guerrillas are committing aggression inside her northern borders.

California's Governor Is Named by Ike

Appointment Will Be Effective When Court Meets Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today named Gov. Earl Warren of California to be Chief Justice of the United States.

The President told his news conference the 62-year-old Warren, a Republican, will make a great chief justice, and that he will be on the bench of the high court when it opens its fall session Monday.

The recess appointment of Warren as successor to the late Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson is subject to Senate confirmation when Congress reconvenes in January. Vinson died of a heart attack Sept. 8.

Warren's appointment had been so widely predicted that the President, in announcing it, remarked that he was confirming something that was hardly news.

The President described Warren as a man with a reputation for integrity, honesty and middle of the road politics.

Experienced Man

He went on to say the new chief justice is experienced in government and in the law—that he is healthy and strong.

Eisenhower added with a laugh that Warren at 62 is relatively young—if, he said, you can call a man about Eisenhower's own age relatively young.

The self-made lawyer son of Scandinavian immigrants, Warren has combined programs of social gains and a jovial personality to win three terms as governor.

The governor—6 feet 1 inch, weighing 215 pounds—has never been a judge. But he made a reputation as a vigorous crime prosecutor during 14 years as district attorney of big Alameda County and 4 years as state attorney general.

Warren has never lost an election in more than 30 years of public service. He began being talked about for the presidency in the 1940s. He refused to be considered for the vice presidential nomination in 1944, but ran for vice president on the losing ticket with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York in 1948.

At the 1952 GOP convention, he received 81 votes for the presidential nomination out of a total of 1,206.

Not Candidate Again

He announced Sept. 3 he would not seek a fourth term as governor next year.

In 1946 Warren swept both the Republican and Democratic nominations for governor in the primaries under California's cross-filing system. No other candidate for that office had ever done so.

Running for an unprecedented third term in 1950, he outpolled Democrat James Roosevelt by more than a million votes in a state where Democrats outregistered Republicans 3-2.

Some of Warren's critics have contended his policies border on socialism. Neutrals have called him a middle-of-the-roader. He terms himself a progressive Republican trying to keep up with the times. In one of his campaign speeches he said:

"I am convinced the American people are not Socialists and will not tolerate socialistic government, but they are definitely committed to social progress."

He is an advocate of social security and of compulsory health insurance. He favors collective bargaining and has spoken out for labor's right to strike. He insists on "one law for all men," backs the United Nations and world cooperation, and favors a bipartisan foreign policy and aid to "our friends in the free world."

The Warrens were married in 1925. She was a widow with a son, James, who is now 34. The other Warren children are Virginia, 24; Earl Jr., 23; Dorothy, 22; Nina (Honeybear), 19, and Bobby, 18.

Warren was raised in the Methodist church, now attends the Baptist.

Pollak Steel Plant Hit by Work Stoppage

Disagreement Arising On Clause in Contract Believed To Be Cause

A disagreement over a clause in a contract between United Steelworkers of America, CIO, Local 2721 and the Pollak Steel Co. yesterday is believed to have caused a work stoppage at the firm's plant on Cheney Ave.

While company officials and union officials refused to comment on the cause of stoppage today, it was believed the misunderstanding was over work in the rolling mill department.

The stoppage began yesterday when G. L. Hahn, union president, is reported to have called all plant employes off the job while negotiations to settle the misunderstanding were being carried on.

Other union officials contacted today reported only that they and company officials, Edward J. Baxter, works manager, and Jay Hawk, personnel director, are holding a series of meetings which were to be resumed this afternoon. Meetings reportedly were held most of the day yesterday.

Reliable sources this morning said that only plant employes working today are in the maintenance department and it was known that shipping department employes also were being recalled today.

Contacted this morning, Hawks said, "We have no comment at this time." Baxter said, "We have absolutely nothing to say . . . We'll contact you when we do."

Hahn, union president, could not be located but other top union officials said neither they nor Hahn would make any comment at the present time.

Night shifts did not work last night, it was reported. The men were told to report to work on the 3 to 11 shift but were sent home when they went to the plant.

David Pollak, assistant to the vice president, who was contacted in Cincinnati this morning, said he had heard only there was a misunderstanding. He was to return to Marion from Cincinnati today.

Kansas City Boy Still Missing

Anguished Parents Look For Kidnapers' Message

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Cold-blooded kidnapers, apparently adopting delaying tactics, today kept the fate of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease from his anguished parents.

The child, son of a millionaire automobile dealer, was abducted two days ago while attending classes at the French Institute of Notre Dame De Sion, a private school.

No Contact Made

A spokesman for the family said no contact with the person or persons holding the boy had been made. The father, Robert C. Greenlease, has said he believes professional criminals are involved, making it more likely Bobby will be released unharmed.

Police reported they had obtained no new information that would lead them to believe they are on the right trail.

Greenlease, through a banker friend, made arrangements to obtain cash at any time of the day or night should the need arise.

Robert Ledterman, a business associate and spokesman for the family, said the whereabouts of the child is a mystery.

Cranks Plague Family

"We have received about eight telephone calls during the day from cranks who say they have the child," Ledterman said yesterday. "I talk to the persons making the calls and ask them questions about the appearance of the boy or what he was wearing.

"That ends the conversations because they don't know the answers. On several occasions the telephone rang and there would be nobody at the other end when we answered."

Ledterman and Greenlease, saying it appeared the kidnapers were trying to make contact, left the Greenlease home in suburban Mission Hills, Kan., for a brief period yesterday. When they returned, however, they said no contact had been made.

Greenlease told a reporter:

"About all we can do is sweat, wring our hands and hope."

Ohio Swelters As September Winds Up Hot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Even though this is the last day of September, it may rank as one of the hotter ones of the year.

A late-season heat wave swept into Ohio yesterday and demolished records right and left. Today promises to be nearly as hot. But tomorrow's high temperature probably will be a more seemly 80.

The only thing which appears likely to keep the mercury from soaring to astonishing heights today is the possibility of scattered thunderstorms this afternoon, the Weather Bureau says.

Mid-90 temperatures were the order of the day throughout the state yesterday. Cincinnati had the highest reading with 99 in mid-afternoon. Its previous record for Sept. 29 was 89.8 set in 1904.

New records—many surpassing marks set more than a half century ago—were commonplace. These were some of the high readings.

Columbus 94; Mansfield 92, Akron 91; Youngstown 90. Across the Ohio River at Huntington, W. Va., it was 96.

Ohio's long drought brought at least one blessing. It kept down the humidity. Four weeks ago during another record-making hot spell the humidity stuck in the vicinity of 90 per cent for days. By comparison, dry-as-tinder Columbus yesterday had a humidity reading of only 18 per cent at high temperature.

No Retail Sales Tax, Ike Tells Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today his administration has no intention of proposing a retail sales tax. He did not rule out, however, the possibility of a manufacturer's excise tax.

Intent Questioned

Russian Note Interpreted As Stall on German Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Western diplomats said today Russia may be trying to torpedo proposals for a big power meeting on German unification now because her position in Germany is weak.

This idea was advanced as one possible, even probable, explanation for the note which Russia delivered to the Western Powers earlier this week. The note made various demands and accusations in connection with the Western proposal for a foreign ministers' conference on Germany on Oct. 15 at Lugano, Switzerland.

Called "Evasive"

The State Department labeled the Soviet note "evasive," and said the Russians were using "dilatory tactics."

The Soviets made acceptance of "the legal rights" of Red China to a position in the United Nations a first consideration in solution of Asian problems and in lessening of world tensions generally. They said there should be "continual participation" by Red China in such efforts.

It was learned that careful high-level consideration was given to the idea that the Kremlin may now find itself in such a weak position in East Germany—symptoms include the popular uprisings two months ago—that it is simply unwilling to go into East-West talks on the subject.

Yet, according to this theory, the Soviets are unwilling to take a negative position and so have thrown up a series of conditions unacceptable in the American viewpoint in order to block the project and blame this country.

Other Possibilities

U. S. officials and other diplomats agreed this was by no means the only possible explanation to fit the major facts. Three others were suggested:

1. The Reds may be trying to marshal world opinion anxious for real peace to force the United States to recognize the Chinese Communist government and deal with it as a big power.

2. The Kremlin may be seeking to create a situation in which it can bargain simultaneously on a number of East-West issues, hoping thereby to wring new concessions from the West.

3. The Kremlin may be trying to exploit to the fullest the differences which exist among the Western Powers on such major problems as recognition of Red China, the war in Indochina and proposed arming of West Germany.

The Soviet note, given to the U. S., British and French embassies in Moscow Monday, was made public last night in an unofficial translation by the State Department.

Secretary of State Dulles, the U. S. ambassador to Moscow, Charles E. Bohlen, and other officials had spent much time going over it, apparently without being quite sure what it was supposed to say. Officials said a reply would be made by the Western Powers after considerable consultation.

British Warships Collide in Atlantic, 32 Reported Hurt

LONDON (AP)—Two British warships "attacking" NATO shipping in vast maneuvers in the North Atlantic collided in inky blackness early today near Iceland. Thirty two sailors were reported injured, none seriously.

The two ships, the 8,000-ton cruiser Swiftsure and the 2,610-ton destroyer Diamond, were immediately withdrawn from the exercises and steamed to port to take stock.

The collision occurred before dawn 80 miles south of Iceland, where the Swiftsure and the Diamond had joined an "enemy striking fleet" assigned to attack Allied shipping in Operation Mariner, the Western world's biggest sea exercises since World War II.

Allies Protest Repatriation Team Rulings

POW Interviewing Delayed Again After U.N. Voices Anger

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Korean Repatriation Commission today laid down the ground rules for explanations to war prisoners who refuse to go home and Allied officers accused the commission of buying "everything the Communists wanted."

Allied spokesmen said the U.N. Command will protest the rules under which Allied and Communist officers will seek to convince some 23,000 reluctant prisoners to return home.

Delayed Indefinitely

The explanations were to start tomorrow, but a dispute over facilities for the meetings forced postponement. A commission spokesman said he did not know when they would begin.

The U. N. Command was reported deeply concerned over the rules, which provide that prisoners may be interviewed individually, even against their will. POWs also may be forced to attend more than one meeting with agents.

The Allies had insisted that prisoners be interviewed in groups and that no prisoner be forced to attend the meetings.

Allied spokesmen expressed fear the individual explanations would weaken the resistance of 22,600 anti-Communist North Koreans and Chinese POWs who have said they don't want to return home. A total of 359 Allied prisoners, including 23 Americans, have refused repatriation.

Allied Stand

One Allied spokesman commented:

"The Communists got everything but the lists of names of prisoners.

He said the commission had favored the Reds in every major dispute since the armistice.

The rules provide no time limit for the interviews, other than in event of disturbances or objections the meetings shall be stopped immediately. Commission representatives then decide whether to continue.

"No prisoner shall impede" the interviews, the commission ruled, and in the event of force or a threat of force by explainers the meeting will be suspended if either side protests. Again the commission would rule whether to continue the interview.

Interviews will be conducted daily, except Sunday, from 7:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. with one hour out for lunch.

Controversial Rule

A prisoner may request repatriation "at any time or any place."

The major provision read:

"Explanations and interviews can be given to groups of or individual prisoners of war as requested by the explaining representatives of the nation to which the prisoners of war belongs. Every one of the prisoners of war shall attend the explanations and interviews."

The rule drew caustic comment from American officers, who said the prisoners "belong" to no nation and must be allowed to make a free choice.

Blow to West

West Berlin's Anti-Red Mayor Ernst Reuter Dies

MAYOR ERNST REUTER

BERLIN (AP)—Doughty West Berlin pledged today to keep clenched the fist of resistance to communism as a lasting monument to its dead lord mayor, Ernst Reuter.

Men who often differed with the Socialist leader in his lifetime threw factionalism aside and vowed to carry on the battle for freedom and unity in his tradition.

Reuter's sudden death last night spread momentary dismay, quickly followed by a swell of new determination and pride in Berlin's role in the cold war.

Christian Democrats who battled Reuter's Socialist policies declared in their party newspaper:

"Parting from Ernst Reuter, we emphasize our determination to

Eyes Flashing, Ike Denies His Word Broken

WASHINGTON (AP)—With a flash of anger, President Eisenhower said today he never has knowingly broken an agreement with any associate. The statement was made in reference to the resignation of Martin Durkin from his Cabinet.

Squaring his jaw, Eisenhower told his news conference that if anybody in the room had evidence to the contrary he could have the floor and present it then and there.

Durkin, who quit as secretary of labor, told the AFL convention that the President backed down on an agreement to recommend 19 changes in the Taft—Hartley labor law.

Eisenhower himself, asked today for his own version, said at first he would not give it because it has always been his policy to avoid comment on individuals.

Then, eyes flashing, the President said that to his knowledge he has never broken any agreement with any associate in his life. He asserted the truth is that no agreement actually had been reached.

It was then that he said if anyone present had contrary evidence — meaning evidence of any broken agreement—he could have the floor and make a speech.

Eisenhower showed more indignation than reporters had seen him display at any news conference since he took office.

Gen. Hull Set To Depart for Far East Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — A one-time Ohio farm boy soon will be the man who will have to match wits and firepower with the Reds in the Far East.

He is Gen. John E Hull, a native of Greenfield, who leaves this week for Tokyo preparatory to taking over command of the United Nations forces in the Far East Oct. 30

It will be up to Gen. Hull to outmaneuver the Red generals in skill and cunning if war breaks out again in Korea. The soldier who sometimes calls himself "the general nobody knows," is not unaccustomed to thinking of military strategy on a grand scale.

Hull was a major architect of the plan which Eisenhower followed in the invasion of France in World War II. And he directed the first planning of the North African invasion.

In an interview he said "My greatest job will be to keep the Army, Navy and Air Force in the Far East ready for combat at any time. We don't intend to be caught with our guard down by any surprise enemy offensive."

And adding it all up that means Hull can't permit the U.N forces to grow soft and relaxed while diplomats try to change the present truce into a lasting peace,

He says:

"The foxholes and defensive positions are manned—and will be manned in the future — just as though we were in combat It's going to be tough keeping an inactive army ready to fight but it must be done."

The 800th anniversary of St. Bernard de Clairvaux (1953) had special significance in Dijon, Fra where he was born.

Nearly $2 Million Invested

World Series Top U.S. Business Deal This Week

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The World Series—bearing some scars of inflation — became the nation's leading business this week.

Yankee pitchers and Dodger batters took top billing over bears and bulls in Wall Street as well as in the rest of the nation.

But the spectatular sell-out clash just hides for the moment the post-war shift from spectator to participation sports in the United States. It points up, however, the steady increase in spending on all sports and recreation as Americans expand their hours of leisure.

Baseball fans felt the tail-lash of inflation as the price of box seats rose from $8 to $10, and reserve seats from $6 to $7. A subway series loses some of its economy lure when a fan who once paid five cents to get to Ebbets Field or Yankee Stadium and last year paid 10 cents must this year put a 15-cent token to inflation in the turnstile.

Americans have spent nearly 50 million dollars this year to see professional baseball teams around the country. But total attendance has been falling steadily — especially since television combined with a can of beer to keep fans at home in their slippers.

The two major leagues had around 21 million paying guests in 1948, their peak year. This year fewer than 14½ million trekked to the parks.

To bring the series to homebodies by way of 105 TV stations and 920 radio stations cost more than 1½ million dollars.

New York hotels, bars, theaters, hot dog makers, mustard bottlers and others will take in thousands of dollars during the classic fracas.

Attendance has been dropping at most professional sports. Exception is horse and harness racing. But here many spectators can be said to "participate" at the parimutuel windows.

Fishing, hunting, skiing, billiards, bowling, golf, boating have been having a hey-dey, however.

Some 200,000 new boats of all types hit the federal and inland waterways this year, the National Assn. of Engine & Boat Manufacturers estimates. This brings the total to about five million craft, double the number in 1947.

Around 17 million fishing licenses were taken out, a gain of 35 per cent over the 12½ million sold in 1947. The sport Fishing Institute says that in some western states one-third of the population have them.

The Fish And Wildlife Service of the Interior Department estimates nearly two million more hunting licenses were taken out last season than in 1947, for a gain of 15 per cent. Minnesota estimates hunting and fishing generates about 250 million dollars worth of business in that one state in a year.

The recent growth in popularity of water skiing and spear fishing equipment is helping line the pockets of dealers in sporting gear. The annual take for sporting goods of all sorts is around 800 million dollars now.

Americans spend around 130 million dollars a year on bowling and billiards. They spend about 92 million dollars a year on golf, which once was a rich man's sport and is now everyman's.

The Department of Commerce estimates all spectator amusements take in around 1½ billion dollars a year.

UNCOVER DOPE CACHE

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Police have uncovered a cache of narcotics worth $6,000 on the legal market and some $30,000 to dope sellers.

Orchestra To Give Concert on Sunday

An evening of music will be presented by the Sunday School orchestra of the First EUB Church Sunday at 7:30 o'clock.

The 25-piece orchestra will be assisted by several guest musicians. The program will be directed by C. E. "Miff" Gilmore, leader of the orchestra. Completing the program will be two selections by a mixed quartet composed of Mrs. Darrel Caldwell, soprano, Mrs. Dorothy Burkepile, alto, Owen Miller, tenor and Walter Scranton, bass. The program will be presented in the Sunday School auditorium.

An overture, "Energy," Bennett, will open the program. Other numbers by the orchestra will be: "At the Opera," an operatic selection arranged by Delamater; "On the Ranch," a musical picture interpreting a western episode, arrival at the depot, auto ride to the ranch, arrival at the ranch and a rodeo, Delamater; "Pilot Me," a sacred paraphrase, Barnhouse; "Have a Little Fun," comedy tune, Bennett; "The Buglers," overture, Bennett. "Adoration," a sacred overture, arranged by Delamater; "Devotion," choral by Delamater; "Trombone Swing," a novelty arrangement by Chenette. "China Clipper," march, Kleffmann.

The offering and benediction will be by the pastor, Rev. L. E. Ames.

Horse Sense Works on Men

Cowgirls Should Be Wonderful Wives

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Cowgirls make wonderful wives, because the rules for keeping a man happy are much the same as those for handling a horse, to wit.

1—Don't ride him too hard.

2 — Ease up on the curb bit occasionally.

3 — Use spurs only when necessary.

4—Give him enough rope.

5—Let him try out greener pastures once in a while—so he'll be glad to get back to the barn.

6—Feed him plenty of oats.

7 — Frequently turn him out to graze.

8—Keep a firm hand on the reins most of the time, but sometimes give him his head

9—Keep a quirt handy, but use it seldom.

10-Don't fence him in

I gleaned these interesting bits of information recently while lunching with Lillian Jenkins, publicity director of Madison Square Garden, and five highly decorative cowgirls, all dressed to the teeth in western attire including tight pants, 10-gallon hats and fancy boots

The sensation created among the male customers of the Midtown Manhattan Restaurant as we led the cowgirl brigade to a table was something like an atomic blast, or an unscheduled performance of Gypsy Rose Lee.

As we engaged in a light chit-chat, it developed two of the five lovely cowgirls were married, and the others intended to be at the first possible opportunity. It was at this point that Miss Jenkins gave out with her horse-husband analogy.

Lillian uses many of these rules in keeping her own husband happy. He's a sportsman named Fred Podesta, who is promotion director at the garden. And when he wants to see a fight or a wrestling match with the boys, Lillian lets him go without a murmur. Says she:

"A man has to have some outside interest, to make him an interesting person. I think a man who is interested in sports has a broader outlook, a more easy-going personality and makes a better husband than the hothouse or bookworm type. Me, I like sportsmen."

Lillian has been employed at the garden in various capacities since 1935, probably has more friends among sports celebrities, performers and fans than any woman in the world.

Feed Mill Workers Discuss Fall Rush

Monthly dinner meeting of McMillen Feed Mills was held Sept 24 at the Shangri-La Restaurant with a representative group of nineteen plant and office employes present.

The meeting was conducted by R. W. Fay, plant manager, and an open forum discussion was held. Among items discussed were the harvest rush and the additional help that will be needed for the rush Virgil Mohler of the plant safety committee, suggested that plant safety rules and regulations were needed and that a campaign be waged to get the individual employes to offer their suggestions as to plant safety ideas.

Present were Don Rhodes, Emmett Simms, Robert Ebert, Karlton Luke and Zane Brady of the Feed Mill; Paul Thomas of Solvent; Virgil Mohler of M & R; Otis Britton, Walter Radabaugh, Joe Clark, Carl Rengert and Ralph Beckel of the Service Department; and John Fix, Ira Frost, Paul McCleary, Barbara Baggs, Dorothy Miller, R. W. Fay and Tim Wyant.

Boy, 4, Has Brief But Spectacular Crime Try

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—A 4-year-old boy is standing up for meals today after a brief, but spectacular, try at crime

Patrolman John J. Barry saw the tot running away from a small variety store which had a hole in a window Barry caught the youngster, who readily turned over the loot—59 cents.

The boy had tossed a stone through the window, unlocked the door, and snatched the money.

The lad was taken to his home and direct parental discipline applied.

New Savings Plan

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Here's a new wrinkle in savings plans:

When 157 of the city's 18,000 employes opened their pay checks last week, they found their checks dated 10-29-63—which would have made them valueless until Oct. 29, 1963

The city treasurer's office authorized banks and check cashing agencies to accept the checks anyhow.

Texas Couple Misplaces Bottle Holding $5,000

LITTLE ROCK, Ark (AP)—A Texas couple has offered a $2,500 reward to the person who finds a small green bottle which the wife left in the purse she mislaid at a service station here yesterday.

The husband, F. A. Bailey of Dallas, said his wife had filled the bottle just before they left home, stuffing cotton on top of the contents and putting it in her purse.

The bottle contained $5,000—nine $500 bills and five $100 bills.

ENROLLMENT UP

Polish Political Refugee Gets Entry Permit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty Gen Brownell said today he has granted a temporary United States entry permit to Polish political refugee Jan Hajdukiewicz.

The Pole, 27, made headlines Aug. 24 when he arrived at Kangnung, in South Korea, as a member of the neutral nations inspection team helping to handle the armistice arrangements, and walked away from several members of the Polish delegation as they were boarding a plane to return to North Korea.

Hajdukiewicz went quickly to an American officer at a United Nations Command post at the Kangnung airbase, and begged for asylum in the United States.

He has been on Okinawa pending consideration of his plea

U.S. To Speed Manufacture of Fastest Planes

B52 Bomber, F100 Fighter To Go Into Heavy Production

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott says some of the money saved in recent cutbacks is going into stepped-up production of the latest type jet planes—the B52 bomber and F100 fighter.

When he announced the decision Monday, Talbott said he hopes Air Force cutbacks have been completed and the department can concentrate on pushing manufacture of planes which show most promise. Extensive tests, he said, convinced authorities that the giant Boeing bomber and the fast North American fighter would perform satisfactorily.

Talbott gave no numbers of aircraft to be ordered, but said the accelerated B52 production would mean an increase of 25 to 40 per cent in the monthly totals of such aircraft turned out.

He said the whole program would mean recommitting about half a billion dollars of the amount saved through recent reductions in other Air Force procurement plans.

The B52, with a wing span of 185 feet, is powered by eight Pratt and Whitney J57 jet engines and can carry the atomic bomb. Only two of the giant bombers have yet been flown publicly.

Talbott said the F100 fighter had exceeded the speed of sound in level flight during initial tests. The exact speed of both planes is kept secret for military reasons.

Talbott emphasized that the additional bombers will be turned out by Boeing's aircraft plant at Wichita, Kan., "to eliminate the danger of a single source." All B52 production so far has been at the Boeing plant in Seattle.

AGENTS HONORED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Assn. of Insurance Agents Monday awarded J. F. Van Vechten, Akron, Ohio, and eight others presidential citations for achievements "in their business, civic or personal life." Van Vechten is past president of the association.

Previously Fortified Position

The logic of the defense pact agreed on by the United States and Spain is so simple and obvious that no one can fail to grasp it.

Spain, a strongly Catholic country, also happens to be geographically situated in such a way as to provide an ideal strong point in Europe's defense against the further spread of the Kremlin's sphere of influence

With its own army better equipped than it is now and some of its vast military potential brought to bear on the problem of North Atlantic security through developments to be paid for by the United States, Spain would be one of those "previously fortified positions" so handy for Generals to have in case something goes wrong up front

It would be, at the southern extremity of the European peninsula, what Great Britain was when Germany overran the Continent early in World War II—a rallying point in retreat and a staging area for a counter-offensive.

Negotiations between the United States and Spain began in March, 1952 The preceding month, President Truman had created a minor incident by saying in a press conference he was not fond of the Franco regime, though he later explained this had no bearing on the wisdom and necessity of military cooperation with Spain.

That is where the matter stands a year and six months later. The United States is not letting its misgivings about the Spanish government bar it from reaching an agreement about the importance of Spain in a military emergency.

Be Generous but Wise

In New York state, officials of more than a thousand "charitable" organizations have been asked to fill out questionnaires on their financial operations

The questionnaires were submitted under authority of a bipartisan joint committee of the state legislature on charitable and philanthropic agencies and organizations. Unsatisfactory answers will lead to sworn testimony at official hearings next November. The New York legislature expects to enact legislation next year dealing with the problem of charity racketeers —unscrupulous people who prey on human generosity for their own gain.

In addition to outright chicanery, there is the problem of unintentional misrepresentation by fund-collecting groups which mean well but are so poorly organized their good intentions backfire

For persons who want to be generous but would like to avoid being foolish, the National Information Bureau, which keeps track of the thousands of organizations which collect money in the name of charity, has offered a check list of rules

In case of doubt, it advises donors to learn if the agency has an active governing body serving without pay, submits its books for auditing, cooperates with other accredited agencies in the locality, is doing with reasonable efficiency what it says it is doing, is holding down its overhead and is satisfying some need not being already satisfied by another agency.

Money Appetite

Some odds and ends of information in the obituary notices of Reconstruction Finance Corp, which died a few days ago after a lingering illness, can be pieced together to point up a moral about government

Nothing the government ever does with money is temporary

In 1932, President Hoover suggested the need of a temporary agency to provide credits during a financial emergency. He recommended that it be given a two-year term of existence

Twenty years later, in 1952, Congress finally got around to discontinuing what grew out of that presidential proposal in 1932 In another 20 years, the money it lent will either be paid back or written off

In 1945, Jesse Jones, long-time chairman of Reconstruction Finance Corp, told a congressional committee his agency had acquired authority by usage—not by law—to lend any amount of money for any length of time to anybody who asked for it at any rate of interest. He told Congress his agency had been allowed to get away from congressional control and deplored the fact

It was to be disclosed later, while Harry Truman was president, that RFC had been turned into a kind of multi-billion-dollar grab-bag into which eager hands were guided to worthwhile prizes by insiders. The agency had done a great deal of good But it had tempted corruptionists by too much public money available to too many borrowers who for one reason or another preferred it as a source of credit to private capital.

By June 30, 1954, RFC will have wound up its money affairs. Its holdings will have been turned over to private enterprise Whether or not it finally will show a net profit is problematic But it will have demonstrated beyond doubt that the public appetite for public money is insatiable and timeless.

Height of Absurdity

India Naively Believes Soviet Now Virtuous

India's proposal that the United Nations call a conference of Great Britain, France, Soviet Russia and the United States at which the chiefs of state would make a pledge not to use atomic weapons or hydrogen bombs in war is the best proof in itself as to why the prevailing view in Washington today is that the government at New Delhi is the tool of Communist propaganda.

For many months now the Moscow propaganda machine throughout the world has professed to be interested in peace and particularly in disarmament.

Again and again the United States and the other Western Powers have pleaded with Moscow to show its good faith by some acts that would manifest to the world a peaceful intent. And the world has yet to see anything but treachery and violation of pledges, as the latest exchanges at Panmunjom have so tragically revealed.

The American government has a list of pledges broken by Soviet Russia that extended from 1945 to date. Despite these evidences of dishonor and bad faith, the Moscow propaganda has the effrontery to cry out that it wants world peace. Actually it makes no concessions but constantly asks for surrender by the Western Powers in every negotiation from the Austrian treaty to the unification of Korea.

Unfortunately there are governments which are either naive or guilty of collusion with the Communists. The speeches of Prime Minster Nehru of India have created the impression in many quarters in America that he does not understand the meaning of dishonor and bad faith, or else chooses for reasons of his own to ignore the facts completely.

Just now the Soviet objective is to persuade the Big Four to stop making any atomic weapons or hydrogen bombs This is because the Soviets are far behind in their production and want a chance to catch up.

No agreement or pledge made by Soviet Russia since 1945 has been worth the paper it was written on and hence, when India's envoy to the United Nations acts as if there never had been any violations by Soviet Russia and proposes now that a mere declaration of peaceful purpose by Moscow be accepted at face value, he merely gives momentum to the Soviet "peace offensive."

Plan after plan has been proposed in the U N. by the Western Powers for the international control of atomic weapons, but Soviet Russia has blocked every one of them. It is difficult to see what a declaration only of formal language can accomplish when there is no desire to permit the testing of good faith by an adequate system of inspection.

If nations say they will not use atomic weapons and then secretly continue to manufacture them, there is no advantage in such an arrangement except to the side which is guilty of such treachery.

The Communists may not realize it, but they have succeeded by their tactics in making the largest part of the free world lose faith in any promises they may make hereafter.

President Eisenhower, in his April 16 speech, called for deeds from Soviet Russia rather than words. The deeds have not been forthcoming.

Here and there a few prisoners who should never have been imprisoned have been released by the Communists in Iron Curtain countries.

A few crumbs have been thrown to the Western Powers. But all the American prisoners captured in Korea by the Communists have not yet been released, and a Communist spokesman brazenly has stated that America would have to barter for the release of the remainder by making some important diplomatic concessions.

It is on a background of such blackmail and faithlessness that an official representative of India now asks the United States and Great Britain and France to forget the crimes of the past and to believe that a group of gangsters in Moscow have suddenly become virtuous.

What a gullible young government India happens to have! What's worse, that same government has a much distorted concept about American readiness to surrender to Communist imperialism on any or all fronts

With Some To Spare

By TRUMAN TWILL

In the publicity man's dream which materialized in front - page squabble between Helen Traubel and Rudolf Bing, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera, any goof can wade in swinging.

"I know nothing about opera, almost nothing about music, am not related to Miss Traubel or to Mr. Bing yet can appreciate a million dollar's worth of publicity as much as the next fellow.

Miss Traubel, with her decision to do all her singing in night clubs, and Mr. Bing, with his decision that popular music and opera don't mix and therefore she should darned well keep away from his hoity - toity realm of cultures, have reaped a million dollars' worth of publicity, with some to spare.

The surplus will accrue from the discussion they have sparked with their difference of opinion about what is high class and what is vulgar. Mr. Bing regards the popular music Miss Traubel intends to sing as trash, which much of it is But he regards the kid of music they sing at the Metropolitan as pure art Much of it is. That's why it's still being sung.

The question is how did it get to be classical The answer has to be that it got that way by being used and appreciated over the years. It was not classical when it was first written by its composers or when it was first sung; that is a status bestowed by time, not by decree.

Some of the music now being written by composers, or which has been written in fairly recent times, will be classical eventually. That will happen when tastes have changed and popular music has gone on to being something else, leaving the way open for the popular music of yesterday to become classical because people refused to forget it.

The musical comedies of the 20th century will be eligible to become the "operas" of the 21st century, just as the operas of today were the meat and potatoes of show business a few generations ago.

And if that prediction isn't enough to infuriate belitters of everything modern and boosters of everything ancient, some of the popular ballads of today will be show pieces sung in generations to come by concert artists pursuing a livelihood.

This endless moving from the present into the future produces classicism in every field. Music is only one of them. Classics are made by the judgment of the many, not by the skill of the few who do the creating.

Music, writing, architecture, sculpture, painting and ideas not fit for dogs when they were tried out on the dogs by their creators hung around until they became classics Instead of being discarded with the trash they were saved and passed along from one generation to the next.

That's where opera came from—grand opera. That's where great books came from, great paintings, great sculptures and great ideas. They were too memorable to be forgotten.

Mr. Bing is justified in wanting to keep his precious opera pure and undefiled by vulgarity; that's what he is paid to do. But Miss Traubel is equally justified in accusing Mr Bing of snooting music that may attain the status of classical music sometime and is mighty tuneful at the outset of the aging process.

Some of it will be classical in a few more generations, when the Mr. Bings of the future will still be seeming to believe that music is not worth listening to unless it already has been listened to for a century. Most of it isn't. But unless someone sings the new songs and someone listens, where will the future get its classics?

Bond Markets Take New Hope

By Charles F. Speare

Out of the mouths of delegates to the American Bankers Association convention in Washington last week came cheers for the statement of Secretary Humphrey that the excess-profits tax will expire on December 31 next and a 10 per cent reduction in the income tax then will be made effective.

This was good news for Wall Street, stimulating the municipal and corporation bond markets, promising more new issues, giving a lift to long-term U S. Treasury issues and encouraging stock brokers.

The new Treasury 3-½s, which were brought out last spring at par and sold at a considerable discount during the summer, are now quoted at a 2-point premium.

It is anticipated that an expanding market in new corporation and public-utility bonds will be one outcome of the more optimistic government attitude toward money rates.

Speaking at the ABA convention, W. Randolph Burgess, deputy secretary of the treasury, said, "You can't force free markets, and the treasury has no intention of doing so."

He believes, though, that the budget situation is improving and that "We may be nearly through with raising cash to finance a deficit."

Along with the gratifying news from Washington was the denial from important industrialists that business was on the decline.

Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the United States Steel Corp, took issue with reports that a "recession" in business was under way

While he acknowledged that the drop in steel operations had been from 110 per cent of the industry's capacity to 94 per cent, he considered more important the fact that 63,500,000 Americans are now employed and receiving the highest wages in history.

Dismissal of the government's three-year antitrust suit against 17 of the leading investment houses of New York, Chicago and Boston was a great satisfaction and relief to the score or more of partners and officers of the firms involved. They gave much praise to "Harry" Stuart, of Halsey, Stuart & Company for the role he played in this historic case and to the patience and fairness of Judge Harold R. Medina in his decision.

The Sept. 26 issue of Business Week sees "more than financial interest in the news that the Bank of England and the Bank of France have reduced their rediscount rates Coming on the heels of similar action by West Germany and other European countries, it appears there is little doubt that these latest cuts decisively indicate an international trend away from tight money."

In an analysis of the shifts in market movements in recent years the research department of Francis I. duPont & Co. finds that, in this era, one of the peculiarities has been lack of speculative interest. "The entire advance from 1949 lows," it states, "has been largely built up demand for investment quality issues."

With the emphasis brokers now place on long-dividend records high yields, low debt and modern manufacturing methods, it is not surprising that the purchaser of a stock, who is often making his first investment, should choose the best, instead of the questionable on the list of offerings.

The new patrons of Wall Street are today a conservative lot.

The New York Stock Exchange firm of J S. Bache & Co. has made a study of the action of 'mutual funds" during the market decline of over 19 points between August 14 and September 15. It shows that sales to investors amounted to $11,525,308, while shares redeemed had a value of only $3,559,000.

In 1946, when the indstural average declinec from 205 62 to 177 20, the same distributors sold $27,270,000 of new shares to investors and redeemed others valued at $10,382,000. Present holdings of "mutual funds" are estimated at between $3,500,000,000 and $4,000,000,000.

The annual report of the Rockefeller Foundation for 1952, just issued, contains a schedule of securities held by the foundation with a market value, on Dec. 31, 1952, of $363,692,554.

The ledger value of bonds held is $64,598,172 and market value is practically the same. Most are U S Treasury issues.

Railroad net earnings for August were generally better and, for the first eight months of the year, encouraging for stockholders. In many cases the margin earned for dividends was well in excess of requirements.

The mid-August price index rise will give the 1,300,000 railroad employes a 3-cent-an-hour wage increase.

Additionally, the railroad trainmen hope to win their fight for a 37½-cent-an-hour advance. The present wage scale for this group is $14 50 a day for yradmen and $13.50 a day for road workers.

Judging the Lawless Driver

By Raymond Moley

For many years our lower criminal courts have been a very sorry example of American government at work.

In fact, three or four decades ago a distinguished member of our Supreme Court said, in effect, that our criminal law administration was a disgrace to American civilization.

Since then, the automobile has been dumping onto these wobbly courts new cases in an amount of more than 12,000,000 a year. The result is disgrace compounded.

Inadequate rules of procedure, a confused mass of laws, poorly trained judges, badly organized courts, and the inevitable "fix" characterize the tribunals where we are trying to do something about a condition that is killing 40,000 of our countrymen every year.

These deaths are all charitably called accideonts — a misnomer, because a vast majority involve the violation of law. In 17 of every 100 automobile fatalities, drivers have been drinking.

In 3,200,000 cases in 1951, personal injuries were involved, and the causes were what are known as "moving" violations, such as operating under the influence of alcohol, leaving the scene of an accident, or reckless driving.

It must be remembered that many, many accidents in which some violation is involved result in no arrest and therefore in no recorded case.

The remedy for the great loss in life, limb and property on the highways is manifold

Better and wider highways will help, something can be done in the construction of automobiles; and driver education will help.

Since the root cause is human weakness and evil, the decisive remedy is in law and law enforcement

In that field, the crying need is for more and better police. Much can be done by improving the law and the courts.

Two years ago, a conference of the chief justices of the states considered the problem of laws and courts in the field of traffic and adopted a series of remedial resolutions.

There were recently published, with a commentary by Arthur T. Vanderbilt, the distinguished and indefatigable chief justice of New Jersey. Vanderbilt points out that a vast reform is needed in both the law and the courts.

Laws and ordinances governing traffic are, over the nation, a jungle of confusion and inconsistency. There is need to bring more states to adopting a nationwide, uniform motor-vehicle law and more cities to adopting a model traffic ordinance that was first drafted in 1928 and has been revised many times since.

Better-trained judges specializing in traffic are necessary The days of fee-collecting and ignorant justices of the peace should be ended.

Cleaner and better courtrooms should be sought There is no sense in cities having traffic violators tried in the same courts as other offenders.

Efficient "fix"-proof means should be adopted for paying minor fines out of court. Lower courts should be integrated with and responsible to the higher courts of every state.

The brochure of Judge Vanderbilt should be required reading by lawmakers and enforcers everywhere.

Prisoner in a Rut

PITTSFIELD, Mass (AP)—It may have set a time-record recently for arrests on the same charge. The prisoner was given a six-months suspended sentence to district court for drunkeness Four hours later, police had him in tow again. The charge: drunkeness.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Contrast in Casualties

Doctor, you've got a new type of war casualty. It's extra baffling. Blood plasma is no help. A letter from the girl, a snapshot of a back-home picnic, a box score of a ball game, a memory of a Christmas might do it, or, best of all, patience and time

He's one of those 23 prisoners of war in the group which brushed off Yankee Doodle, sneered at his country and sang chants for the Communists way when offered repatriation in Korea the other day.

He could be a guy whose record is such that he's afraid to come back He could be gullible enough to fall freely for the Commies. But the chances are otherwise

It's most likely he has been slugged, beat up, tortured, harrassed, brain-washed, broken in mind and spirit and left pretty much of a war wreck.

If so, the call is for sympathy, sorrow understanding. For he is a top Korean war "disability" case, a casualty in a striking sense of the word.

To lose an arm or leg in war is terrible but to lose the love for your homeland is worse. To come home from the wars sightless is frightful, but the kid who roams the cherished spots of boyhood with his seeing-eye dog will always know a solace never obtainable through the normal eyes of a veteran who sees in the Red-ruled towns of China a life that beats life among the glorious freedoms of his homeland.

The blind GI can dip his toes in the ol' swimmin' hole, smell the grass in the home-town sandlot and touch his loved ones These things are forever impossible to the guy who turns Man Without a Country, or Man with a Totalitarian Country.

Pity the GI who sticks to the Red side if he is beyond rescue. For as the years pass he will know agonies greater than those of the battlefield and misery beyond that of the prison camp. There will be a living death more heart breaking than any death at a disputed barricade.

He will find that no country in Red China, North Korea or Russia, however big and however beautiful, can match the village back home. The greatest freedom they can give him will seem an imprisonment compared to the most commonplace liberties of his own country.

If he made his choice freely with full use of his mind he will get over it—and how!—when he discovers that Iron Curtain order rank above the date with the best girl, the right to poke fun at the biggest man in town, the privilege of talking back to the traffic cop and the right to squat whenever and wherever he chooses.

Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness will again seem a better buy than the dictator setup. Wait until he finds his right to say "You and who else?" "You can't do this to ME!" and "Nuts to you, buster" is forever gone and that "Izzat so?" can put him against a gray wall at sunrise!

If you've gone over to the Commies in your right mind, soldier, it's just too bad. Presently the privilege of talking freely over the phone, jeering a pitcher, drawing a mustache on subway posters, ignoring a "Don't" list, writing letters to the editor, parking your bubble-gum on a squad car, criticizing a president, voting the way you like, driving down Main Street in your own jalopy, blowing your top under any circumstances and enjoying the buttered popcorn at a movie that's any good will seem extra wonderful.

You rate sorrow, too, kid But it's the beat-up ones that draw on the full depths of pity, from most folks What to do? How to reach 'em? If we were boss and could apply one prescription, we would prescribe the right to tune in on the world series.

That could do for these kids what plasma does for wounds that are not always so lasting.

Doctor Yankee Doodle, it's a tough case. Give it a lot of thought!

"Nobleman's genuine gondola in excellent condition, lying in Thames, for sale. Box X-1801"—ad in the London Times. These are tough days, mates.

Wednesday Night Dance Club Will Mark Anniversary

A dance next Wednesday night at the Marion Country Club will mark the 50th anniversary of the Wednesday Night Dance Club. All former members have been urged to attend the dance and help make the evening one to be remembered. Dancing at 9 o'clock will be preceded by cocktails at 8. Dress will be optional.

Marion was a community progressing toward a population of some 18,000 when a group of congenial folks who were taking dancing lessons from John K. Schwinger organized a dance club and chose the name Wednesday Night Dance Club.

Streetcars and horsedrawn cabs were popular modes of transportation and the telephone was a fairly new means of communication when the club held its first dance in the Opera House, now the Ohio Theater. Later dances were held in the hall of the Huber Building which now houses Uhler's store and business offices. When the dancing master opened his dance hall in the Schwinger building the dances were held there.

As families of the members grew up and took their places in the social life of the city they too became members of the Wednesday Night Dance Club and today's roster is now made up of many of the children of former members of the dance club.

Among the first members were Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Huber, Dr. and Mrs. Dana O. Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Honefanger, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Schroeter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Guthery, Mr. and Mrs. George King, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Uhler, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Cheney, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Stoll, Mr. and Mrs. Schwinger, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Prendergast, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. Dumble, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Wollenweber and R. T. Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Cox head the list of officers for the 1953-54 season. Other officers are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bessom, vice president, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Howard, secretary-treasurer. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ashworth and Mr. and Mrs. John K. Bartram are on the social committee and arranging for the music are Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Huber.

Former members will be guests of the club at the anniversary dance.

Benson Seeks World Market For U.S. Crops

WASHINGTON (AP)—A super marketing bureau intended to regain world outlets that have been slipping away, will become the No 1 agency in the Agriculture Department under a reorganization plan Secretary Benson is completing

This new agency will replace the Production and Marketing Administration, the present day successor to the politically controversial Agricultural Adjustment Administration set up in the early days of the Roosevelt New Deal

The first public step in creating a big marketing bureau was taken yesterday with the transfer of Benson's top adviser from a post involving crop control and price support operations to one concerned with foreign marketing activities

He is Asst Secretary John H Davis, former executive secretary of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, and outstanding among Benson aides for popularity with members of Congress and most farm organizations

Details of the reorganization plan have not yet been completed and it may be two or three months before it is put into effect.

Police reports indicate that Eaton was turning onto N Greenwood St from Mark St. when the cars collided. Hanning was going south on N. Greenwood St. The right front end of Eaton's car was damaged. The right rear end of Hanning's car was damaged.

Eaton was then arrested on a warrant sworn out by Hanning charging him with reckless operation. Eaton is to appear in Municipal Court today.

Parked Cars Damaged

Two parked cars were damaged when they were struck by a hit skip driver in front of Whitey's Place on W. Mill St. at 10.02 p.m. According to police, the rear bumper, front bumper and grill of a car owned by Dennie Chafin of 279 Rose Ave. were damaged when struck in the rear by the hit skip driver.

The impact pushed Chafin's car forward into an unidentified car causing damage to the rear bumper of the front car.

The rear end of a car driven by Charles Spears, 21, of 247 Edwards St. was damaged when struck be a car driven by Warnie E Conley, 17, of 1061 Uncapher Ave

The accident happened at 7:45 p.m. in front of 667 W. Center St. Spears told investigating police he was stopped for traffic when he was struck. The front end of Conley's car was damaged.

North Korean Pilot Helps To Dismantle MIG

TOKYO (AP)—A young North Korean pilot who flew a Russian-built MIG15 to South Korea Sept. 21 is in Okinawa helping American fliers test the jet fighter, an authoritative source said today.

Whereabouts of both the MIG and its pilot had been secret.

Gen. Mark Clark, commander of U. N. forces, has offered to return the MIG to its "rightful owner" once ownership has been established. But he said the North Korean pilot who landed it at Kimpo Airfield would still get a $100,000 reward offered for the first MIG delivered to the U. N.

The pilot disappeared from public view Sept. 22. The plane was dismantled, loaded aboard a giant C124 Globemaster and taken to an undisclosed destination.

A reliable source, who asked not to be named, said the MIG was taken to Okinawa and reassembled

The pilot arrived in Okinawa shortly afterward.

The source said American Air Force test pilots have made flights from Okinawa in the MIG.

He said the North Korean officer has also flown the MiG from Okinawa.

The MIG was originally scheduled to be taken to Wright-Patterson Field, Dayton, Ohio, for study by U. S. Air Force experts.

$25,000 Action Filed Against Railroad Here

A $25,000 damage suit against the New York Central Railroad has been filed in Marion County Common Pleas Court by Ellis Oiler, administrator of the estate of Chauncey B. Chandler, deceased, of 184 E. Fairground St.

The petition reports that on Oct 20, 1951, Chandler was driving a three-quarter ton truck on Marion County Road 101 less than a mile west of the city corporation line when the truck and a New York Central passenger train collided.

The truck was destroyed and Chandler "sustained injuries which caused his death," the petition states. It goes on to claim the collision was caused by the "carelessness and negligence of the defendant" There were no crossing signals and there was no signal from the approaching train at the time of the collision, the petitioner claims.

$3,500 Blaze Hits Barn at Marengo

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD — Firemen from the Marengo, Ashley, Centerburg and Cardington departments fought a $3,500 blaze Tuesday in a storage barn in the village of Marengo, about ten miles south of here.

The barn and its contents, which belonged to Sterrit Fuller, were completely destroyed, but firemen were successful in keeping the flames from other buildings and the Fuller home, a few feet in front of the burning barn. Paint on the house and buildings was badly blistered.

No cause has been determined for the blaze which started about 3.50 p.m. yesterday It was discovered by Mrs. Fuller.

A transformer and electric wires also were destroyed in the fire, and service was shut off for some time.

Celebrezze Is Election Victor In Cleveland

Cuyahoga Democratic Machine Dealt Hard Blow in Primary

CLEVELAND (AP)—Scrappy little Anthony J. Celebrezze bucked the local Democratic organization and dealt it a staggering blow yesterday. He won the right to run for Cleveland mayor Nov 3 against Republican William J. McDermott.

Celebrezze, 43, was in his second term as state senator—the only elective office for which he ever ran. But campaigning against "bossism" and supported by Gov. Frank J Lausche and the Cleveland Press, he led in the three-man, non-partisan run-off primary to determine two mayoral candidates

Defeats Party Candidate

The deep-voice, mustached legislator, ninth in a family of 13 children, polled 50,967 votes to 37,901 for Albert S. Porter, on whose campaign the local Democratic organization spent a reported $14,000 and days of work by thousands of assigned party workers

Porter ran behind McDermott, who finished with an unofficial total of 44,911. McDermott, who left the Juvenile Court bench to make the campaign, lost two years ago to incumbent Thomas A. Burke. A Democrat, Burke refused to be drafted to run again this year for the $15,000-a-year job he has held since 1945.

Slightly less than one-third of 404,000 eligible voters went to the polls to nominate mayoral candidates and councilmen in 16 wards where there were contests. The voters also ballotted on two charter amendments.

Special Issue Passes

One amendment—to empower nedd only a bar majority City Council to set the mayor's salary—passed 63,776 to 55,446 and needed only a bare majority.

The other, which would have assured victory in the general election for mayoral and council candidates winning the non-partisan primary, appeared from unofficial and complete tabulation to have lost by a margin of less than 100 votes—59,100 to 59,044

One of the losing council candidates yesterday was Albert A. Flagel, a jewelry store operator whose campaign was based on a pledge to bring back bingo.

There was speculation Celebrezze's big vote might lead to the resignation of Cuyahoga County Democratic chairman Ray T. Miller, long the party leader here and long, too, at odds with Gov Lausche The first campaigning Celebrezze ever helped to do was on behalf of Miller's successful race for county prosecutor, and Miller gave him a job as assistant.

Third in City's History

Twice before Cleveland mayoral candidates have bucked their party and won. Lausche did it to the Democrats and Supreme Court Justice Harold H. Burton was a successful independent against the Republican machine.

Miller left party headquarters last night remarking only: "The figures speak for themselves."

McDermott appeared downcast that he was unable to run ahead of the candidates dividing the Democratic vote.

Mayor Burke endorsed Porter but did little to campaign for the Cuyahoga County engineer.

2 Mansfield Escapees Held in Butler County

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Butler County deputy sheriffs arrested two escapees from the Mansfield Reformatory late yesterday even before word had been received of their escape.

Farmers' Wells Depleted

Hot, Dry Weather Hurts Water Supply

Lack of rainfall during the past two months has resulted in the drying up of wells in the eastern part of the county. Elwood Parrott, associate agent for the agricultural extension service, reported this morning that the area around Claridon Township was especially hard hit.

He attributed it to heat wave which gripped not only the Marion area, but the entire nation The period of three weeks in which almost no rainfall was recorded in the county was called the largest single factor in the shortage.

DURING AUGUST a total of 2.29 inches of rain was recorded. So far this month, only 1.47 inches has fallen. The last time more than an inch of rain has fallen in a single 24-hour period was July 22 and 23. At that time, 1 29 inches fell on the area. Since then, the rains have been rather light, and not steady enough to replenish the sagging supplies. On Aug. 1, .62 of an inch was recorded. The largest single fall since then was in the 24 hour period covering Sept. 20 and 21. Then a little over one-half an inch fell at the weather station.

A weather station official reported today several farmers had dug their wells a little deeper to try to obtain more water. Some have struck "sulphur water."

He stated that east of the city, there were several natural gas deposits which farmers sometimes struck when lowering their wells. While the water is safe for drinking, he said, it has a bad taste and many persons are unwilling to drink it.

Parrott said a long siege of wet weather was needed to bring the wells back to a high enough level for obtaining a sufficient supply. He added that one heavy rain would not be enough.

He said further that some of the farmers who were hit hardest by the shortage were being permitted to haul water from the Engineer Depot in the area.

The Depot has its own water source, the liquid being pumped to the old Ordnance Plant, and from there to the Depot. The pipelines used for the pumping are owned by the Federal Government.

While farmers have been affected by a water shortage, city residents have not. The Marion Water Co. wells have an adequate supply.

Club Members Hear Talk by Representative

Kenneth A. Robinson, Marion County representative to the 100th General Assembly of the Ohio State Legislature, gave a report of the activities of the assembly at the weekly meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday at Hotel Harding.

Robinson said Ohio's highways were the greatest problem facing the legislature. He said they had never been adequate and called for a change in their maintenance.

He touched on the school problem and the nine proposed amendments to the state constitution on which the voters will ballot in November.

Henry Mickley, in his introduction of Mr. Robinson, told Rotarians that Robinson, during last year's session, was voted one of 15 outstanding representatives in the General Assembly. The selection was made by legislative correspondents and newspapermen covering assembly news.

Two new members were accepted at the meeting. They are Dr. Richard W. Mills Jr., and John A. Maxwell Jr., editor of The Star. Guests were Nelson Burroughs, George F. Leatherman, Robert Wopat, Harry Rediger and Ralph Howard. Bill Lyon was the reporter representing St. Mary's Senior English class.

Ohio Cities' Right To Control Traffic Upheld by O'Neill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's attorney general says municipalities have virtually unlimited authority to regulate highway traffic within their borders.

Atty.-Gen. C. William O'Neill has so advised state highway director S. O. Linzell.

There is one lone exception to complete authority, and O'Neill said that is one requiring villages to get highway department approval to erect traffic lights at highway intersections. Cities do not have to get such approval.

The ruling given today held specifically that a municipality does not have to get highway department approval to prohibit "left hand turns" at state highway intersections within their boundries

O'Neill said the department has authority to erect highway route markers in a municipality.

Linzell had asked the attorney general for the ruling on traffic control authority within municipalities. He said one of his division engineers had reported more than 20 instances in his division where local authorities had erected "no left hand turn" signs at highway intersections which slow up and are a great inconvenience to through traffic.

In some instances, he said, it was just about impossible to establish loops or other routes to get through traffic back onto its routes.

Reuter

continue fighting with all our strength for the great aim for which he sacrificed himself. The same day we achieve unity and freedom for Berlin and Germany, his name will be quoted as the man who helped us to reach this goal"

Germans of all walks were convinced Reuter's abrupt passing came from his zealous day-and-night work to preserve West Berlin's freedom and someday see his nation unified.

From the Brandenburg Gate to the White House, the Western world mourned the militantly anti-Communist mayor. President Eisenhower, whom he had visited in Washington last March, termed him "a born leader . . . a rare combination of talents, including courage, intelligence, energy and dedication to the cause of freedom."

Rites Set Saturday

As thousands of candles burned in West Berlin windows throughout the night, Reuter's city organized the funeral. It will be held Saturday, a giant gathering in front of the City Hall where the American-donated Freedom Bell peals.

A final, private ceremony will be held for the mayor's widow Hanna, who was at his bedside when he died, his two sons and his daughter.

Berlin's leader of the opposition Christian Democrats, Deputy Mayor Dr. Walter Schreiber, took over the city government for the present. City Hall came to a standstill save for funeral arrangements.

The city government will vote a more permanent government next week. Schreiber's Conservative coalition has the votes to keep him in office—66 to the Socialists' 61. They have had this majority for three years, but Reuter's personal prestige had kept him in office.

The 64-year-old Reuter became ill early yesterday and was ordered to bed, though his doctor did not consider his ailment serious. During the afternoon he took a turn for the worse and died at nightfall.

Ohio Supreme Court Hears Slayer's Appeal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Counsel for Mrs Dovie Dean- 54-year-old poison slayer, today claimed a series of errors in her first degree murder conviction in his attempt to save her from death in the electric chair.

Hugh C Nichols of Batavia listed the alleged errors at a hearing by the Ohio Supreme Court on his request for a review of her conviction.

The court took the request under study.

Mrs. Dean was convicted last Dec. 19 by a Clermont County Common Pleas jury of killing her husband Hawkins Dean, 68. The state contended she poisoned him to obtain his $27,000 estate willed to her the day before they were married in April 1952.

Longshoremen Set To Strike On N.Y. Docks

NEW YORK (AP) — The world's largest port girded today for a longshoremen's strike, which appeared inevitable with the deadline only hours away.

The walkout threat cast a shadow of possibly serious economic consequences for New York and other ports from Portland, Maine, to Hampton Roads, Va.

New York's mammoth port also was concerned with the possibility of violence between two rival dock unions during a strike. Police reinforced details along wharves.

The union rivalry—pitting the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA), recently ousted by the AFL, against the new International Longshoremen's Association, AFL (ILA-AFL)—could turn the strike into one of the bloodiest waterfront struggles in years.

A wage contract dispute between the now-independent ILA and the New York Shipping Association, representing 170 companies, is at the root of the strike threat. The deadline is midnight tonight.

The ILA-AFL is not involved in this contract fight, but the new union is making a determined bid to win over the ILA rank-and-file and may try to keep its adherents here at work. A strike would be a test of strength between the two groups. The AFL chartered the new union after ousting the ILA last week for failure to purge itself of racketeering elements.

ILA demands for a 13-cent-an-hour package wage-welfare boost were rejected last night by the employers' association, which promptly appealed to President Eisenhower to invoke the national emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act to block the strike. However, it probably would take about a week to obtain any action, in the form of an 80-day injunction, under the law. Shippers have made an 8½-cent package offer to the longshoremen, whose present basic wage is $2.27 an hour.

Heat Wave Pushes Mercury to High Of 95 Degrees Here

Temperatures were in the 90's in Marion and throughout the state yesterday as an unseasonal heat wave hit this section of the country.

Locally, a high mercury reading of 95 was reported, thermometers reaching this temperature about 3 30 in the afternoon. During the night, the temperature dropped to 61. A year ago, the high was 80 and the low 52.

Today, temperatures were expected to go nearly as high with cooler weather forecast for tonight and fair weather with moderate temperatures for Thursday.

U.S. Reported Set To Boost Indochina Aid

Military Support Worth $385 Million Claimed Agreed Upon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is nearly ready to sign a new agreement with France pledging 385 million dollars in added American military contributions to help crush the Communist threat in Indochina.

A formal announcement is expected sometime today, climaxing weeks of intensive French-American strategy discussions.

$400 Million Voted

The deal would back up a 400 million dollar sum voted by Congress earlier this year to finance guns, ammunition, planes and equipment needed to continue the seven-year-old Indochina struggle

President Eisenhower has personally approved it despite his administration's economy program

The National Security Council secretly approved the arrangement in a meeting two weeks ago as part of a Western drive to keep the rich Indochina area out of Communist hands.

The French government reportedly has promised in return.

1. To move nine battalions of regular French army troops from Europe to Indochina to reinforce some 200,000 French soldiers already battling the Communist-led guerrillas

Independence Promised

2. To grant complete, visible independence to the three Indochina states of Laos, Cambodia and Viet-Nam in order to build up anti-Communist support among the Indochinese people.

3. To step up the training of loyal Indochinese armies by borrowing some of the techniques used by American forces in training and equipping the South Korean army.

The new weapons purchased with American aid will enable the French and loyal Indochinese, it is hoped, later to mount their own end-the-war offensive and wipe out the Communist forces within a two-year period.

The figures show that Marion was one of five cities in the state reporting no change from the normal temperatures for the week Joining this city in the list of normal temperature readings were the Akron-Canton area, Cleveland, Columbus, and Delaware.

During the last four weeks, only 1 47 inches of rain have fallen in the area Normal rainfall is from two to four inches for the month.

Tank Trucks Hauling Water To Dry Town

BETHEL, Ohio (AP)—This drought-stricken town's 2,000 persons today again awaited the arrival of water-laden tank trucks, certain that it would be a daily routine until rain—and plenty of it—hit Southwestern Ohio.

The village council met last night, but heard only discouraging news from Civil defense officials. They didn't think there was hope of aid from that source.

All meters have been turned off since Cloverlick Creek, source of the municipal water system's supply, went dry several days ago.

Some residents have talked of the possibility of a pipeline to Grant Lake, in Brown County. Rep. Polk took action on their suggestions and last night asked President Eisenhower to direct Army engineers to install such a pipeline.

Others had asked Gov. Lausche to declare an emergency so the area could be eligible for federal drought aid.

However, after Polk's plea to the President, it was pointed out by a spokesman for the Farmers Home Administration that his agency had surveyed Southwestern Ohio and decided farmers there were ineligible for drought disaster loans.

Widow of General Patton Killed in Fall From Horse

HAMILTON, Mass. (AP) — Mrs Beatrice Ayer Patton, widow of Gen. George S Patton, famed World War II Third Army commander, was killed today when thrown from a saddle horse

Rushed from the bridle path accident scene, she was pronounced dead upon arrival at Beverly Hospital.

Mrs. Patton's death was the third major tragedy in the family in recent years.

Her husband was killed in a collision between his jeep and another vehicle while serving in Europe.

Their daughter, Beatrice, wife of an Army officer, John K. Waters, died about a year ago unexpectedly. Her mother at that time was at sea in the Patton yacht, "When and If," which had been so named by the general because he hoped "when and if he retired" to go on a world cruise.

Mrs. Patton, 66, was riding with 30 friends in a drag hunt sponsored by the exclusive Myopia Hunt Club.

Riders reaching a check point noted her absence. They returned over the course and found her on the ground, her riderless horse nearby. The spirited mount apparently had balked at a jump, throwing her.

Authorities believed Mrs. Patton died instantly from head injuries.

The accident occurred on the estate of her brother, Frederick Ayer, Boston broker.

Mrs. Patton leaves a son, Army Capt. George S. Patton, III.

WITHDRAW APPLICATION

CLEVELAND (AP) — The WJW Broadcasting Co has withdrawn its application for television Channel 19, William O'Neil, WJW owner, said he decided the effort and money to obtain and operate a new station here would be more than he considered justified.

Seek To Revive Lost Art

Want To Stay Healthy? Learn To Loaf

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"Strive to loaf if you would succeed in living longer."

That could well by every man's motto in these tense times. For it is now an accepted medical fact that too much hard work and exercise may kill you or drive you crazy.

One doctor, remarking on the need of Americans to take it easier to improve their health, said recently:

"Why, just plain, old-fashioned loafing has become a lost art."

Well, boys, lets drop everything and join in the search. Finders keepers!

Since health has been hailed as the nation's first line of defense—and loafing helps keep you healthy—the problem before us all is:

"How can I become a successful loafer?"

The answer depends on how healthy you really want to get. How much time and lack of effort are you willing to put into loafing?

Half a loaf is perhaps better than none, but only for people who believe in half-way measures.

Plain, old-fashioned, 24 - karat loafing is a genuine art. And like any other art is requires trained skill, know - how, and selfless dedication.

The born loafer is as rare as the born Rembrandt. To acquire the art of loafing and get its most healthful benefits, you have to give it the old college try. You have to start young and keep everlastingly at it. Steady does it.

Suppose you wanted to become the healthiest, longest-lived loafer in the annals of this reviving art. How could you best work toward x x er x x that is, achieve this goal? Well, here are some tested principles:

To begin with, you must erase from your mind all other cares or worries, all dreams and desires, all feelings of personal guilt.

You'll feel healthier at once Next, quit your job. Notice how soon that tired businessman feeling goes away?

Then you marry a fine, strapping, wholesome woman able and willing to take in washing. This will relieve you of financial worries, and if you need a clean shirt you can steal it from the laundry of one of your wife's clients.

Now, where to loaf? The best place on sunny days is a park bench. Here, as if you sat on a platform you can watch and criticize the rushing folly around you—a pleasant sight to the loafer.

Loafers share a philosophical disapproval of all other people. For example, suppose a park employe is mowing the grass. You nod at a patch of dandelions nd tell the loafer sitting next to you:

"Bet he misses 'em."

Sure enough, the mower chugs by without clipping the dandelions.

"What'd I tell you"? you say disgustedly. And the other loafer says, shaking his head, "Yep, he skipped 'em. The world's getting shoddier every day."

But you can't brood about it Brooding is different from loafing. It's work. To keep from brooding when you're loafing by yourself, the best thing is whittling. That'll keep your mind empty and your hands occupied. But you can't whittle out a ship or a walking stick. It has to be aimless whittling, or you are cheating on your loafing.

On rainy days the best place to loaf is in a courthouse. Nothing else makes a loafer feel more superior than sitting in a courtroom listening t ll the trials, tribulations and lawsuits working people get themselves into.

Hunger is the onlything that ever interrupts a real loafer, busy at his art. But a wise one never overeats. He knows he can't loaf well if he's sick.

The most perilous pitfall for loafers—outside of job offers—is a pool hall. Stay out of them. A pool room loafer is one who is risking his entire professional career.

Pool halls have wrecked more good loafers than honest toil. The danger in loafing around pool halls is that you will get interested in the game, start playing it yourself for money, and thus get yourself involved in the cares and affairs of mankind.

Then you will be no longer a serious loafer — but an insincere, back - sliding bum. You'll never make a name as a loafer unless you have the character to stick to it.

But remember the reward Old loafers never die. They just loaf away.

This kind of "Fix" is OK

Traffic law enforcement is important. Traffic violations can't be "fixed" if today's tragically high accident rate is to be reduced. But the careful driver, when sued, does have someone who will take his place in court or in making a friendly settlement of damage claims. When you have your automobile liability insurance with us we "Fix" things so you need not worry.

Sue Ford for $3 Million, Discrimination Charged

DETROIT (AP) — Three women, claiming to represent 105 others, filed a three million dollars suit against the Ford Motor Co. and the CIO United Auto Workers Monday, charging they were discriminated against because of their sex.

Neither Ford nor the union had any comment.

The women claim they were laid off in 1949 at Ford's River Rouge plant and men hired to replace them.

These Days

By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

Wars take not only a toll in lives among the combatants but there is usually an aftermath of disordered social conditions in the countries where soldiers were stationed.

The racial composition of countries has been more altered by invading armies than those who believe in the purity of their ancestry are willing to admit.

Italy has been affected by Hannibal's armies, the Slavs by the forces of Gustavus Adolphus, Western Europe by Americans in two wars.

The "cold war" has produced an impact upon European and Asiatic countries because of the long duration of the presence of American, French, British and Russian troops in other countries, introducing not only new customs and traditions but producing many illegitimate children.

-:-

INVADING and occupying soldiers serve to turn a country into a melting pot, the effectiveness of the mixing process depending upon numbers and duration.

It is estimated that 29,000 children were born of Russian fathers in East Berlin and into this figure has somehow crept 467 children born of American Negro fathers.

All these children — including those of American Negro fathers —are regarded as Russians and come under the educational processes by which the Kremlin is creating a Marxist world.

It is estimated that 100,000 illegitimate children have been fathered by Americans in Japan, 50,000 in the American zone in Germany, 70,000 in Great Britain.

I do not know how absolutely accurate these round figures are but they are accepted by the authorities.

-:-

REPRESENTATIVE Frances P. Bolton, in discussing this question before the House of Representatives, said:

"I would like to urge you to join with me in thoughtful consideration of what we as Americans can and should do to give these thousands of youngsters a constructive childhood. After all, are they not a segment of America's participation in the future of the world?"

I do not know precisely what this has to do with America's participation in the future of the world — that future will inevitably be there anyhow. But this can be said:

So many problems arise out of war and the most humane are often the least pressing. Illegitimate children appear in large numbers after every war and somehow their mothers manage to take care of them, but the community has a long memory of bestiality.

-:-

ONE OF THE longest race memories of this nature arose from the wholesale rape of Chinese women by Western seamen on the China coast in the 1840's. I heard it discussed nearly a century later in my days in China.

Surely the 100,000 American-fathered war babies in Japan can become an evil memory, a lasting impression upon a people who are race-conscious.

Something can be done for those children. What, I do not know. It is easier to say that something should be done than to offer an amateur's program.

There must be experts in our country who would know how to handle problems of this nature to the best advantage of the United States as well as these children. They are morally our wards.

-:-

THOSE WHO are so sure that One World is possible do not always recognize the resistance not only to mixed marriages but to the progeny of such marriages among most peoples.

In those countries in which racial homogeneity is identical with nationality, the role of the product of a mixed marriage (and illegitimacy makes it worse) is difficult, indeed. Such a child may even be without nationality, particularly where the law determines nationality as descending from the father. If there is no acknowledging father — what is the nationality of the child?

This is often overlooked in most discussions of this subject, particularly among Asiatics.

IN SOME countries, prejudice against Negroes or other pigmented peoples does not exist. Such a prejudice can develop out of mixed marriages, between natives and American Negroes — and that could be worse in cases involving illegitimacy.

It could in time become a situation of extreme ugliness and injustice, particularly when great services ceased to be acknowledged.

This is such a complicated matter, involving not only human life but prejudices and hates, that it should not be discussed emotionally.

Certainly some agency of the American government, perhaps Mrs. Oveta Hobby's department, might research the entire problem and find a solution for it.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

RIESEL

ST. LOUIS

When Secretary of State Dulles arrived at the AFL convention, the favorite corridor gag was that former Soviet Secret Police Chief Lavrenti Beria was going to be the next surprise speaker.

Someone in Dulles' party then knocked down the international rumor that Beria had escaped Russia. For the first time it was explained how the U.S. knew that the most terrific shakeup in Soviet history was happening long before the announcement for Beria's removal.

Early this summer our ambassador to Russia, "Chip" Bohlen, was intrigued by the fact that Beria was not present with other dignitaries at the opening of an important opera.

Instead of guessing, as the other foreign diplomats did, Bohlen sent one of his aides out to Beria's villa for quiet observation.

THE AIDE WENT up and down the road several times. He noticed that for the first time in its history the house was dark and deserted. There were no MVD guards in front of it as usual.

Bohlen then informed the State Department that Beria was through, that a change in policy was coming, and as a result we pushed diplomatic maneuvers into high gear — which history will show won some smashing victories for us, forcing the Russians on the defensive for the first time.

After Harry Truman spoke at the AFL convention, he went to dinner with the high command. Someone rolled out a piano and Truman played four waltzes including the Missouri Waltz, and Jimmy Petrillo then complained that the ex-President, who had received a $600 gold membership card in the Musicians Federation, had not paid his dues.

Truman admitted he should be paying, saying that he now was earning more money as an author than he had ever made as President of the United States, and that this was guaranteed at least for the next six years.

Truman then asked the labor leaders for money for the Truman Library. He wanted financial support only from "lowbrows" like themselves, he said. He got the money.

WHEN VICE - PRESIDENT Nixon lunched with the AFL leaders, he hit the most somber note of the exciting week by briefing them on the latest secrets of atomic war possibilities.

He revealed that we needed a tremendous stockpile of atomic and other nuclear bombs because Russia "had no target area." In other words, we would have to saturate the Soviets with hundreds of bombings before we could knock them out, while they could get us in 24 hours if they got through.

While Nixon was talking, a tiny iron workers local some 160 miles from here in Poppa, Ill., was spreading a strike which was slowly crippling some $1,200,000,000 worth of atomic construction.

We are already five months behind schedule right now. This local has just 39 members, but it tied up our atomic construction because it wanted to flex its muscles in a fight with its national headquarters' — by proving it could stay out on strike despite orders from up above.

-:-

ONE OF THE MOST important speeches delivered during the convention week was unleashed in a hard hitting statement far from the AFL hall.

This came when Dave Beck announced at a banquet, in the presence of George Meany, that the powerful teamsters were opposed to political action — thereby seeming to break sharply with those who had virtually turned the convention into a New Deal rally.

This is the first such announcement by an influential labor leader.

Beck also demanded that John Lewis be brought back into the AFL and warned the CIO that the teamsters were about to move in on CIO jurisdiction, the first being the laundry drivers, now in Jack Potofsky's Amalagamated Clothing Workers Union.

-:-

WALTER REUTHER has just alerted all his field men to prepare for a major automobile strike next year for the guaranteed annual wage.

These long range strike plans will be aimed more and more at Chrysler and Ford, because the General Motors Co. will smash precedent in the industry by granting Reuther a new contract containing the guaranteed annual wage when the current agreement terminates at the end of 1954.

This means that GM is now making plans to guarantee its 325,000 workers some sort of payment the year round whether or not they work each week. Only a terrific recession will change these plans, the very top CIO Auto Union leaders have been told...

This will give Reuther great prestige and political leverage in the increasingly bitter fight with the steelworkers inside CIO...

And the AFL convention wound up by once more calling President Eisenhower a liar, in effect. And then virtually asked that he again name a labor leader secretary of labor.

Socialism's Thorn

By Inez Robb

INEZ ROBB

We Americans are certainly a hair shirt to the socialists of the world, especially those of the British Labor party.

If we would just go off quietly with our free enterprise system and drop dead, it would be so much easier for the socialists to remake the world neater to their hearts' desire.

They have such a lovely blueprint of a world machine under state socialism and government ownership. And every time they get the boys in the back room sold on the model, someone looks out the window and there is the U.S.A., highballing along at 110 miles an hour in a shiny machine clearly marked free enterprise.

-:-

THEN THE BOYS take a second look at the old heap marked "state socialism" and the deal is off.

We unreconstructed capitalists probably ought to be ashamed to cause so much real agony and terror to Clement Attlee, Aneurin Bevan and the rank and file of the British Labor party now assembled in annual congress at Margate.

If the denunciations of us and our unabashed capitalist ways by Labor party speakers at the congress are causing a wave of high blood pressure in the United States, think of the ulcers we have inflicted not only on the British but all the world's socialists.

No matter how roundly the socialists damn capitalism and all its works, America arises as a solid bulwark to contradict and confound them.

THE NEIGHBORS whom the socialists are trying to convert have only to look over the fence and see that we are prospering as no other nation in history on the very system our detractors are condemning.

America and its standard of living stick up like a rock candy mountain, like pie in the sky, let the socialists fulminate as they will — and they will! No wonder the socialists get short of temper, if not of wind.

You would think American prosperity might even embarrass the socialist politicians except for the universal fact that politicians aren't easily embarrassed.

It must infuriate Bevan, a man of notoriously low boiling point, to realize that the more he preaches socialism, the more America practices capitalism and succeeds.

-:-

FOR SO LONG as free enterprise succeeds in this country, we have cut the ground out from under all socialist arguments and arguers, be they Bevan or Pandit Nehru.

This is the one thing they can not forgive America, any more than the Communists can forgive us for being a living contradiction of everything they claim. No wonder both are sometimes so shrill.

It must have been double humiliating for both the Messrs. Attle and Bevan, in the post - war years when their Labor party ran the government of England, to be so dependent upon American money and goods to keep their socialist experiment in Britain oiled and running. But then, politicians do not humiliate easily, either.

BOTH MR. ATTLEE and Mr. Bevan now find the U.S.S.R. much more tractable, sensible and easy to deal with on the international political scene than the U.S.A., even if we are notoriously loose with the purse strings.

But we must always be conscious of the fact that we have given them and their socialist cohorts great provocation: We have made free enterprise work maddeningly well and thus negated the validity of their whole political pitch.

One thing is clear to me, that no indulgence of passion destroys the spiritual nature so much as respectable selfishness — George Macdonald

Boys Plead With Governor To Keep Their Deer, Win

RICHMOND, Va (AP)—Two little boys, slicked up in their Sunday best, changed the "established policies of the state" yesterday and got a deer in return.

It started when Buddy Barrack III, 14, and his brother, Lawrence, 9, called on Gov. John S. Battle to discuss a problem dear to their hearts.

The governor listened to how the youngsters had saved a deer from a pack of dogs last summer. They nursed it, cared for it and named it Bambi.

Then they got the word. State law said the doe had to be turned over to a state game preserve.

That was what the boys went to see Gov. Battle about. Couldn't he use his power and prestige to let them keep the deer?

The governor called State Game Commissioner J. T. Quinn. To let the boys keep the deer would be against the law, but . . .

Late yesterday, the governor called his secretary and dictated a letter.

"Dear Buddy," it began.

"It is seldom that one or two individuals within the space of a few hours can reverse the trend state. But, after considering . . ."

Yes, the governor said, the boys could keep their pet.

'Should Be Punished,' He Says

Schinagle Anxious To Get Trial Over

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY — Time is going too slowly for Roy Schinagle Jr , 19-year-old Ohio Wesleyan student from Mayfield Heights, who last week confessed to the murder of his White Plains, N Y.,sweetheart, Cynthia Pfeil, 19.

Schinagle told news reporters he was a little disappointed he might not be tried for some time for the murder of his pregnant sweetheart "I should be punished," he kept repeating

The slim, sandy-haired youth represented by Upper Sandusky attorney Ray H Stansberry, has been charged with first degree murder by Wyandot County Prosecutor Harold Roth. Last week he waved preliminary hearing and was bound over to the Grand Jury which is expected to be called sometime this week The youth confessed strangling the girl on a practice football field on the campus, taking her unconscious body to Wyandot County, where he beat her to death with an iron tool.

DELAWARE SHERIFF Earl Fravel said a Delaware man had reported seeing a girl outside the shack on the athletic field of Ohio Wesleyan University when he crossed the field early on the night of Sept 17 Schinagle, in his confession to Wyandot officials had said that Cynthia stayed overnight just outside the shack upon arriving in Dealware and that it was near the building that he choked her at the conclusion of an argument Schinagle said he loaded the girl's body into the back of his car and finally dumped the body on the deserted road near Upper Sandusky after beating her with an iron pipe and disfiguring her face to prevent identification

Sheriff Fravel said the man reported seeing 'the girl sitting on a plank on the south side of the building' as he crossed the athletic field on his way to the Olentangy River with his three children He said "she was holding what appeared to be a folded light blue blanket over one arm ' He said he saw no sign of the girl when they returned from the river.

IN EARLIER STATEMENTS, Schinagle had said he returned directly to his fraternity house after the Upper Sandusky trip He told newsmen in a recent interview that a friend and he then left the fraternity house and went downtown to a Delaware restaurant There they saw two more fraternity brothers he said, and then a girl came into the restaurant Schinagle said his friend attempted to engage her in conversation to "mess up' the efforts of the other two to 'pick up" the girl When the girl left the restaurant with Schinagle and his friend, Schinagle said he asked his friend to drive the car because of the cut he suffered when he struck Miss Pfeil earlier on the athletic field He said the three of them sat in the front seat, and "just drove around it was all a joke on the other two fellows I was engrossed in my own troubles and don't think I said more than a few words to either of them all the time she was in the car" He said he did not recall where they drove and that the girl was let out of the car after a few minutes.

IN ANOTHER anonymous report of the pickup of the girl from Delaware Schinagle is said to have "necked" with the girl in the back seat while his friend drove the car to Marion and back Confronted with the account from Delaware, Schinagle threw up his hands in shock

Meanwhile young Wyandot County Sheriff Dean McAllister spent the week end questioning fraternity brothers of Schinagle s at the Delta Tau Delta house on the OWU campus, and students whose names were mentioned by Schinagle

On Sunday, the youth's parents visited him His request to attend church services at the John Stewart Methodist Church in Upper Sandusky were denied by the Sheriff McAllister, who said he did not oppose the youth's attending church, but felt his appearance there would create "too much of a sensation"

So far, Schinagle has not been given any newspapers and he has been denied the use of a portable radio which his parents brought him Comic sections of Sunday papers however, were taken to him and he already has a large amount of magazines and books Still unshaven, the youth will be shaved when a barber visits his cell for authorities have not permitted him to use a razor .

Water Shortage Shuts West Virginia College

ATHENS W Va (AP) — Concord College's 745 students are today enjoying an unexpected and indefinite vacation.

Dr Virgil H Stewart, president of the college, said all classes have been postponed 'until further notice" because of a "critical municipal water shortage"

Mayor Rouse B Cook said the college consumes more than half the tow's water supply with 300 of the students commuting from nearby areas

ASK SEPARATE TRIAL

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—Seven indicted ringleaders of the 1952 Halloween riot at Ohio Penitentiary scheduled to go on trial next Monday asked yesterday to be tried separately Their counsel said a joint trial would tend to prejudice and confuse the jury

WINNER. Helen Hayes, president of American Theater Wing, embraces Constance Simons, winner of Mary MacArthur Scholarship commemorating Miss Hayes' daughter in New York.

Hollywood Actress Madge Meredith Wed

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Madge Meredith whose 5 year to life sentence to Tehachapi Women s Prison was commuted in 1951, was married yesterday to Dr Charles L Corley.

She served two years and two months on a charge of conspiring to kidnap and beat Nicholas Gianaclis, restaurant supply operator But Gov Earl Warren, in commuting her sentence, called her case 'one of the most bizarre I've ever seen . . . and more fantastic than any motion picture in which she ever acted"

She and Dr Corley are honeymooning in northern California

Reports of Senate's Crime Probe End Denied by Bricker

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—Sen John W Bricker (R-Ohio) said Tuesday he intends to leave it up to his commerce committee whether investigations of crime would continue and what would be investigated

He denied a published report which said he was shelving crime hearings scheduled by the late Sen Charles W Tobey (R-NJ).

Sen Bricker said Tobey had acted arbitrarily in planning investigations of conditions on the west coast waterfront and other areas of possible criminal operation Bricker intends to schedule investigations by the crime subcommittee only if his committee gives approval

Bricker said he cut back the crime committee staff because there was no need to have 'lawyers ranging the field to make work" for the subcommitee

Heat Burns Up Rangeland

New Drought Injures Texas Ranchers

SAN ANGELO, Tex (AP) — The drought is hurting some west Texas cattlemen worse today than it did before widespread rains in August greened up some rangeland.

Then, there was hope rains would come in time to make winter pasture. But the rains slacked off. Now, with a searing heat wave setting temperature records under clear skies, it's too late for many pastures to recover this year.

Yesterday the state drought committee approved resumption of emergency feed shipments to 38 more counties. That means the cattlemen will be able to buy government-owned dry feed at less than market price. Eighty-six of Texas' 254 counties are now eligible for the drought-relief feed.

The moisture-devouring heat wave sent temperatures past 100 in much of Texas yesterday. Seymour in north Texas recorded 107, Wichita Falls and Llano 106, Dallas and Fort Worth 105. Dallas' 105 was 9 degrees higher than the previous Sept. 28 heat record, set in 1938. No rain fell.

The hardest decision of his life faced many a west Texas rancher: with only part of his herd left, a big debt at the bank, and the prospect of another dry winter during which his feed bill and bank debt pile up, should he sell out?

One San Angelo stockman who handles thousands of sheep and cattle each year sees strong signs many ranchmen are getting ready to quit. Here's the way he put it to Elmer Kelton, farm editor of the San Angelo Standard-Times:

"A lot of ranchmen would be out now if it just wasn't so hard for them to throw in the towel. Many of them are hanging on because they don't want to quit on the banker who has stuck with them so long. They know that if they give up now, the banker is in a lot of trouble. They owe more than their livestock could possibly bring."

Kelton said those who decide to sell are going to find the sheep market tougher than a tight boot on a sore corn. Packers are paying only 3 to 4 cents a pound for sheep, with some Mexican packers bidding up to 5.

The general run of stocker calves are bringing 10 to 14 cents a pound. Calves fat from dry feed sell up to 20 cents a pound but there aren't many such animals.

Whatever happens, there will be fewer cattle and sheep around to see the winter through. Many have been sold off, others were shipped to other states.

OWU Selects New Athletic Publicist

Special to The Star

DELAWARE — Larry Howe, former sports writer and reporter on the Rochester (N Y) Democrat and Chronicle, has been named director of athletic publicity at Ohio Wesleyan University.

He succeeds Tom Pastorius who recently resigned as OWU sports publicist to join the sports staff of the Columbus Citizen.

Howe, who is 26, received his A B degree from Stanford University in 1951. He also attended Kenyon College for two years. A veteran, Howe served 22 months with the Army. He spent 14 months in the Pacific.

Howe started on the Democrat and Chronicle in 1948 as a reporter. He quit the staff in 1950 to enroll at Stanford, rejoining the newspaper in mid-1951. His past two years at the Rochester paper were divided between radio editing and sports writing.

Howe is a member of the American Newspaper Guild and Phi Kappa Sigma.

HELPS WITH BED SHORTAGE

She said strikes showed a decline of 20 per cent and strike idleness 13 per cent. There were some 61 strikes and lockouts in August involving 96 firms, she said.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 22 members of the Ohio Foundation of Independent Colleges are out to get a million dollars from business and industrial firms this year.

The colleges, which are not supported by taxes, banded together two years ago to solicit some $200,000. At a meeting in Columbus yesterday they decided to up that figure.

Russians Find Value of Advertising

By TOM WHITNEY

LONDON (AP)—It pays to advertise—even in Communist Russia.

Ever since the end of the war I have been watching neon signs go up in Moscow. At night their bright colors urge Ivan Ivanovich—Russian equivalent of Joe Doakes—to buy whatever the Soviet government wants to sell him. They say:

"Put your money in a savings bank—it's reliable, convenient, and safe."

"Travel by plane."

"Smoke 'Dukat' cigarettes."

"Buy Soviet champagne."

Invest your money in the 3 per cent state lottery loan."

"Collect Soviet postage stamps."

"Buy caviar."

Wine, automobiles, soap, tooth powder, cigars, perfume, sausages, insurance—these are a few of the products pushed.

The advertising is mostly poor quality — a fourth grade boy in the United States could do better—but the odd thing is that the advertising exists at all. Indeed, articles in the press demand better ads and displays. So does the minister of trade, Anastase Mikoyan.

Evidently economic needs are forcing the Soviet government to advertise in order to sell some of its products.

In the West, advertising changes habits, promotes new products, introduces improvements in old ones. It stimulates people to want things, and work harder and more efficiently to obtain them. In Russia, where the advertising is poorly done, this stimulus is in large degree lacking.

The Soviet government apparently realizes this. It spends a lot of money to erect those signs—hard experience shows that it pays.

To see the effect of real advertising on a Russian all one has to do is to hand him a copy of an American publication. He turns directly to the advertisements and starts looking at the pictures of things for sale. He begins to wonder whether life in America is as bad as his government says—and he wants to buy similar goods. Once that desire to buy arises, one starts to think about finding the money—of working harder, if necessary, and producing more.

The Soviet government is on to this idea too, even though it apparently does not realize how important it can be for Soviet economic development.

A year ago the Soviet press took up the question of window displays. One paper said most stores' show windows were being made up by oafs and hacks. Since then there has been an improvement. Many windows carry fairly attractive displays which get buyers into the stores and sell goods.

A $3.75 cookbook came out last spring in an immense edition and was bought out by eager housewives as soon as it hit the stores. It devotes large space to the advertising and promotion of Soviet food products.

But Russia is a long way from getting as much effect with its advertising as it could.

Autos and television sets are selling well with little advertising. But other goods are not being sold as rapidly as they could be with a good advertising campaign.

An example is electric refrigerators. The high cost of the larger model refrigerator made at the Zis factory in Moscow is one factor in its low sales (the price when last noted, it was 2,000 rubles, or $500 for a 6-cubic foot compressor type).

Another factor is that most Russian housewives do not realize how advantageous electric refrigeration is. Backed by an advertising campaign to demonstrate these advantages, the Zis refrigerators likely would be quickly sold out despite their high prices.

QUITS MET FOR TIN PAN ALLEY. The Metropolitan Opera's top Wagnerian soprano, Helen Traubel, sits at a piano in her apartment in New York City as she comments for newsmen on her breach with the Met over her budding career as a night club singer. Miss Traubel recently made her night club debut in the Chez Paree in Chicago.

Dental Researchers Not Convinced by Toothpaste Claims

CLEVELAND (AP) — Six dental scientists agreed Tuesday there is no definite proof that toothpaste materially decreases tooth decay.

The six, who have carried on extensive research in the dentifrice field, took part in a panel discussion at the annual meeting of the American Dental Assn.

Dr. Thomas J. Hill, professor of oral pathology and therapeutics at the Western Reserve University School of Dentistry, served as moderator and summed up the discussion with:

"It is not definitely established that the dentifrices as used by the public materially decrease the dental caries (tooth decay) rate because of any specific therapeutic substance incorporated in them."

Dr. Hill, who also is chairman of the Council on Dental Therapeutics of the American Dental Assn., emphasized that the proper use of the tooth brush as a cleaning instrument was more effective for dental health than any particular substance in toothpastes.

U.S. Rubber Co. Grants Pay Boost

CINCINNATI (AP) — The United States Rubber Co. has joined its competitors in granting a new wage increase to the CIO United Rubber Workers.

The company and union negotiators signed an agreement Monday night which will give to 35,000 employes in 19 plants.

1. A five-cent-an-hour across-the-boards hike.

2. An additional $1,000 in life insurance, bringing the total to $4,000.

3. An optional accident and health policy, the premiums of which will be deducted from the five-cent increase for employes wanting the policy.

4. An improved pension plan, raising to $125 a month from $100 the minimum monthly benefits for workers with 25 years of service.

G. L. Patterson, union counsel, said the U. S. Rubber accord is comparable to the 12-cent package deal negotiated by the rubber workers with other major rubber processors.

Jaycees Open Drive To Boost Runyon Fund

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The United States Junior Chamber of Commerce today opened its campaign to raise money for the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund.

The Jaycees are selling reflectorized lawn markers in 2,500 communities. Vice President Richard Nixon bought the first marker from U. S. Jaycee President Dain J. Dornich and George O'Hara, chairman of the sales program.

2 West Virgina College Students Held in Holdup

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (AP) — Two West Virginia University students from Morgantown, W. Va., were charged with armed robbery yesterday in the holdup of a Fairmont hotel owner.

Robert Gregory Colasanti, 19, a second-year law student, and Anthony Scotchel Jr., 18, a freshman in commerce, were held for grand jury action in default of $5,000 bond each.

BANDIT SEEKS EDUCATION

CINCINNATI (AP)—A young bandit with a yen for education was shot fatally by police 12 minutes after he robbed the Hillsdale Building and Loan Co. of $2,267 Monday. Police identified Marshall Burgher, 25, by a canvas zipper bag in which he put the loot he was carrying. He had registered last night for night courses at the University of Cincinnati.

3-Way Battle For Canton TV Station Opens

WASHINGTON (AP)—A three-way struggle for a television channel at Canton, Ohio ended its first day before a communications commission examiner yesterday with a ruling one of the contestants won't get full credit for eight staff members listed on its proposed organization chart

The examiner hearing the merits of the three applications for a TV license ruled eight part-time employes listed by Brush—Moore Newspapers Inc, would be considered as talent available to the company which wins the license

Lawyers for the Stark Broadcasting Co and Tri-Cities Telecasting Co—firms competing with Brush—Moore for the permit—complained the eight part-time employes listed as 'talent' had such titles as farm program director and woman's program director

They said those were jobs of the type that belong to a staff member and said Brush - Moore was trying to show a larger staff than it listed originally in its application

Fanny P Litvin the examiner, then ruled the eight would be considered talent available to whoever wins the permit to broadcast on ultra high frequency Channel 29

Canton now has no television station Brush—Moore owns The Canton Repository and Canton radio station WHBC.

Eugene Carr, radio director for the Brush—Moore newspapers and manager-designate of the television station—if his company gets it—appeared at yesterday's hearing

He said Brush—Moore planned to use the policy of its radio station as a guide for the proposed television station

Any locally important event would get preference over a national telecast, he said and a national program considered more important than a local program also would get priority

Carr said his company would staff the television station with 21 employes Brush—Moore has made considerable preparation for training talent, he said

City Schools List Shortage Of Substitutes

A shortage of substitute teachers in the Marion City School System was reported today by Superintendent Lester L. Dickey.

While the need is not urgent at this time, the approach of winter with its toll of colds and other seasonal illnesses, the call for part-time teachers in both the elementary and high school departments will be greatly increased.

Classes will suffer if part-time teachers are not available, the school head points out, and he is asking persons with college work contact him regarding substitute work. Supt. Dickey may be reached at the school administration office 2-3132.

Galion Pastor Stresses 'Crusade' to Clergymen

Special to The Star

GALION — Something of a crusading spirit is reflected in a paper entitled, "The Protestant Clergy and American Democracy," which was prepared and read by the Rev. Turner Holt to the Galion Ministerial Association at its September meeting. He is pastor of the Church of Christ here.

Rev. Holt indicated in his paper that Christianity and the church are under the greatest pressure now, and that the church is too self-complacent to carry on the broad program for today's needs. In citing a few ways by which the church and clergy have lost ground, he said, "many ministers do not know the problems and toils of the average person . . .especially true of the working majority . . . we have been too satisfied with executing of rituals and litanies and not sensed the spiritual needs of the common man in a world that has gone mad with sex, war, crime and just plain routine sin . . .there is a growing feeling that we have outgrown the need for the church . . .a growing feeling of self-sufficiency among people who have grown more and more into materialism . . .and that we have yielded the ground to too many intruders, and by so doing we allowed the church, the ministry and moral standards to suffer a serious set-back."

"We ministers need to learn again the fine art of meeting sin head on," he concluded.

The minister was highly commended by his fellow clergymen on the writing of the paper.

NOTE 66th ANNIVERSARY

BUCYRUS—A Bucyrus couple, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McHenry, observed their 66th wedding anniversary at their home here Sunday. Mr. McHenry, a former Bucyrus Township farmer, is 93 and his wife is 89. Both are in fairly good health. The McHenrys moved to Bucyrus in 1920. They have no children.

Work Finished On Gas Project

Lines Joined at City Corner, Firm Reports

The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. has completed work joining its lines on Church and S. Main Sts., John C. Marshall, district foreman reported today.

The company expected to resurface today the section of that intersection which was torn up in the joining process.

Marshall also reported that the company is planning to begin construction within the next month of a new line in the eastern section of Marion's business district that will boost pressure in the surrounding area.

The new line will begin in back of the county jail, extend south across E. Center St. to E. Church St. and then east to High St. It will continue south approximately 100 yards on High St.

The company also plans to begin this week a repiping of Green Camp, Marshall reported.

Two Charged by Police On Traffic Violations

Two motorists were stopped for traffic violations in the last 24 hours. Both are scheduled to appear in Municipal Court today.

Ely Herbert Blue, of 613 E. George St. was arrested last night and charged with driving with an insufficient muffler. He was stopped on Olney Ave.

William F. Honaker of 659½ N. State St. was given a citation early this morning. He was told to report to municipal court to answer charges of speeding on N. Main St.

Cross Country Win Streak Ended at 31

GEN. DEAN GETS FOOTBALL PASS. Ann Moore, hostess queen of the friends and neighbors in Berkeley, Calif., to join in a welcome home for Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, who recently returned after spending three years in a Communist prison camp. Here she presents him with a lifetime pass to all University of California football games.

Harding's Runners Handed Second Loss in Six Years

Harding High School's long winning streak in cross country action was shattered yesterday at Worthington. The host team raced to a 23-33 win.

The loss snapped the Prexy runners' streak at 31 wins. The Worthington school, with its best team in several years, won its convincing victory at the York Country Club course near Worthington.

Coach Ken Somerlot described the defeat as a "team loss." He said his top runners failed to live up to expectations and the rest of the boys still are too green to give much help. Ken pointed out the team lacks the balance which carried it to a state title last season. Hugh Kinnamon, Gene Monroe and Dick Bollinger are being counted on to carry the load until the sophomore newcomers develop.

Slowed By Heat

Yesterday's meet was run in 95-degree temperatures, Somerlot said today. In addition to the heat, the runners were bothered by lime dust which had been scattered over the golf course. The 70 runners stirred the lime into a dust cloud and several of the boys were hampered in their running.

The defeat was the first since 1949 for a Harding team and only the second in six years of cross country competition. Somerlot said the pressure of the win streak had been building steadily and a lot of the runners were tense for the meet.

Several of the team members pointed out after the defeat that the long streak had apparently failed to scare any one. They promised harder work in an effort to launch a new streak.

Entertain Bedford

Friday afternoon Harding's team will play host to Bedford High School in a meet scheduled at 4 p.m. at the Marion Country Club. The Bedford team will be guests at the homes of the Harding runners and will attend the Harding-Tiffin Columbian football game before returning home Saturday.

The first 25 finishers in yesterday's meet and their times follow:

Blackburn (W) 10 34 2; Kinnamon (M) 11 26; Morgan (W) 11 30; Ream (W) 11 41; Monroe (M) 11 52; Bollinger (M) 11 57; Boucher (W) 12 00; German (W) 12 01; Dozier (M) 12 05; Russell (W) 12.14; Andrews (M) 12 20; S. German (W) 12 34; Foos (M) 1235; Thomas (W) 12.36; Hopkins (M) 12.37; Wood (W) 12:38, Pelky (W) 12.39; Rutherford (M) 12 40; Mick (W) 12 42; Hoffman (M) 12:53; Metz (M) 12:57; Schwabe (W) 13:02; Kinkaid (M) 13 03; Stinchcomb (W) 13 04; Williams (M) 13:05.

Johnny Saxton Given Decision Over Giardello

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —Johnny Saxton beat Joey Giardello who beat Gil Turner who beat Johnny Saxton. It reminds you of comparative football scores. They add up to nothing.

The latest in this series of "pay day" fights was presented last night for the entertainment of 4,995 fans who paid to see smallish Saxton of New York, push around husky Giardello in 10 rounds.

Giardello, who aspires to be middleweight champion, aspired to rest last night. Saxton, who thinks Kid Gavilan is an imposter as welterweight champion, took advantage of Pal Joey's rest to gain his 41st victory in 43 fights. He has only a draw with Wallace (Bud) Smith and the aforementioned Turner mistake to mar his record.

The defeat was number seven for Giardello in 59 fights. Joey looked out of condition against Saxton. He won the first three rounds and then retired into a shell. From the third to the eighth, Giardello didn't land a solid punch.

Saxton, slow in starting, had everything his own way after the third round.

Judge Billy Yancey carded Saxton the winner 5-3-2 and referee Joe Sweeney scored it 5-4-1 for the winner. The Associated Press liked Saxton 5-3-2, but Judge Herby Goldman apparently had a hard time deciding who won what. He gave Giardello one round, Saxton three and called six even.

Toledo Wins, Ties Blues in Playoffs

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Blues, after blowing a 3-0 lead in their best-of-seven American Association playoff series with Toledo, meet the determined Sox for the decisive seventh game tonight.

The winner meets Montreal of the International League in the Little World Series.

Toledo won last night's game, 4-2, after trailing, 2-0, at the end of the first. The Sox collected three runs of Rip Coleman in the fourth and added an insurance run in the seventh inning.

Manager Harry Craft called on Bob Wiesler, winner of two playoff games, to face Murray Wall, Toledo's fireballing righthander, in the final contest tonight.

Fights Last Night

TAMPA, Fla. — Nino Valdes, 203, Havana, stopped Matt Daniels, 192, New York, 2.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — Pat Lowry, 142, Detroit, knocked out Tommy Maddox, 140, Chicago, 5.

LONDON — Joe Lucky, London, outpointed Tommy McGovern, London, 15, (for British lightweight title).

Bratton, Wilson Eye Crack at Gavilan

BALTIMORE (AP) — Johnny Bratton, the off and on fighter, opposes Al Wilson in a return bout here tonight with a possible shot at the welterweight title at stake for the winner.

The scheduled 10-round bout in the Coliseum will be on the television screens of the CBS Network.

The winner undoubtedly is going to be clamoring to be included in any elimination in the event Kid Gavilan vacates the title.

Frick Issues Warning

Yanks' Casey Stengel Sees 'A Splendid' World Series

NEW YORK (AP)—Before entering the first battle, Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees fell over himself being polite. His final pregame statement: "We've got a nice team and they have a splendid team over there so it should be a splendid World Series. What!

Bot Stengel and Manager Chuck Dressen of the Brooklyn Dodgers have been warned by Commissioner Ford Frick that beanballs will not be tolerated. He also instructed them not to blast the umpires after the games for what they considered adverse decisions.

Dressen is keeping a secret "book" on the Yank batters, but he is willing to discuss reserve infielder Willie Miranda, who isn't much of a hitter. "His weakness is pitched balls," quipped Cholly.

Television officials say this series will be telecast by the largest network in history—119 stations in 113 cities . . . And no fewer than 750 radio stations will carry the broadcast.

The Brooks allotted six tickets to each Yankee player for the Ebbets Field games but received only five for the stadium games themselves.

Three scalpers have been tossed in jail for trying to sell six tickets to Ebbets Field games for $170. The tickets had a face value of $42.

If any game isn't finished by darkness—which is unlikely in view of the early starting time — the lights in either park will be turned on.

Local Archers Win Honors at Columbus Club

Twelve members of the Marion Archers Club took part in a rover shoot with archers from all over the state Sunday at Camp Johnson near Worthington. Archers from all parts of the state were invited to participate by the Columbus Archery Association.

Kitty Cooperrider of 345½ N. Prospect St. took a third place cup in the women's instinctive Class A meet and Terry Strawser of Delaware, a member of the local club, took a third place cup in the men's Class B instinctive field shoot.

Archers, there from Cincinnati, Cleveland, Yellow Springs, Newark, Dayton, Springfield, New Philadelphia and other Ohio communities, were divided into four groups. There were Classes A and B for bow sights and instinctive shooters, for both men and women.

High scores in the shoot turned in by members of the Marion Archers Club were a 179 by E. J. Leadenham of 1301a Clover Ave. and a 176 by Frank Louck of 308 E. Farming St. It is believed that the two archers' scores were good for sixth and seventh in the Class A men's instinctive shoot although final results were not known at the completion of the meet.

Eight archers from the local club will leave tonight for Michigan where the deer season for bow and arrow hunters opens on Thursday. The Marion Archers will hold their next meet late in October.

LaStarza Still No. 1 Contender To Win Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite his knockout loss to heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, Roland LaStarza still is ranked as the No. 1 heavyweight contender in the latest Ring Magazine ratings.

The New Yorker was continued in his runner-up position today by Ring editor Nat Fleischer for the fine showing he put up through the first six rounds of the Marciano battle and because of the two defeats suffered by former champion Ezzard Charles.

Charles was kept in the No. 2 post by Fleischer because he has a better overall record than his two conquerors, Nino Valdes, and Harold Johnson. The latter is the top-ranking light heavyweight contender.

Valdes, of Cuba, was moved up from No. 4 to 3, reversing positions with Philadelphia's Dan Bucceroni.

There was almost a complete overhaul in the lightweight ranks, where Wallace (Bud) Smith of Cincinnati took over the No. 1 contenders' post and Ralph Dupas, 17-year-old New Orleans schoolboy, vaulted from tenth to third.

Smith earned his spot with four straight kayos, the last one being scored over Toronto's Arthur King.

Carmen Basilio, the Canastota, N. Y., welterweight who gave champion Kid Gavilan the battle of his life, was promoted from No. 4 to No. 2, one peg behind Johnny Bratton.

Buckeyes, Irish Picked To Win By Grid Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The Ol' Swami nursing a hotfoot by Purdue and Iowa, takes another peek in his foggy crystal ball:

Notre Dame 14, Purdue 13—This is just about a standoff, and you can bet the Boilermakers won't fumble away their chances like 1952. But the Irish must figure a slight edge in what should be one of the best games of the season.

Michigan State 21, Minnesota 14—Could be another close one with the Gophers trying to prove to home rooters they can bounce back after absorbing that 17-7 loss by USC, probably the best team on the Pacific Coast.

Ohio State 21, California 10—This big an edge is based somewhat on Hopalong Cassady, the Buckeyes' mercurial halfback, being able to play after being injured. It may not be the only time the West Coast sees the Buckeyes this season. They're wearing the Rose Bowl look.

Northwestern 20, Army 14—Another whale of a contest between two truly good aggressive teams.

Michigan 27, Tulane 6 — The Wolverines' impressive mobility swamped Washington 50-0. Enough said.

Illinois 20, Stanford 13 — The Indians take the warpath to Champaign remembering that 40-7 pasting by the Illini in the 1952 Rose Bowl.

Iowa 19, Washington State 13—The Hawkeyes learned a lot from Michigan State.

Wisconsin 19, Marquette 14 — Might go the other way if the unbeaten Hilltoppers can bridle Alan "The Horse" Ameche.

Southern California 27, Indiana 7—Friday night-On the basis of their victory over Minnesota, the Trojans figure to be at least this much better than the Hoosiers.

After 70 harness racing night at Roosevelt Raceway in N. Y., the record shows that horses in Post One position have won 127 times.

Tebbetts Signs Two-Year Contract To Lead Redlegs

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK (AP)—George (Birdie) Tebbetts went shopping today for right-handed pitchers as the new manager of the Cincinnat Redlegs.

Tebbetts, who piloted Indianapolis to fourth place in the American Assn. this season after 16½ years of major league catching, was signed to a two-year contract late yesterday as the successor to the recently fired Rogers Hornsby.

"I don't know much about the Cincinnati players," said Tebbetts. "After all, I spent my days playing in the American League."

But General Manager Gabe Paul quickly advised his new field boss of the club's need for pitchers—particularly those that throw right handed. So Birdie joined Paul in sounding out several club owners here for the World Series.

Paul said he already had talked to several clubs but that nothing was definite. He also declined to say whether he was willing to trade off some of the Redlegs or pay cash.

Tebbetts' salary for his first major league managerial job was not announced. But Paul said he was the only one the Redlegs talked to about the position although there were many applicants.

Tebbetts broke into major league baseball with the Detroit Tigers in 1936 He was traded to the Boston Red Sox for catcher Harold Wagner May 20, 1947. The Red Sox sold him to Cleveland Dec. 13, 1950, he was used chiefly as a reserve catcher by the Indians.

Paul disclosed that Buzz Boyle, a Cincinnati scout, observed Tebbetts' managing during the season and in the American Association playoffs and recommended that he be hired.

But it wasn't until yesterday that Paul actually talked with Tebbetts. That was after he received permission from Hank Greenberg, Cleveland general manager. Indianapolis is a Cleveland farm club.

"Hank said he didn't want me to leave but he gave me his blessing," said Tebbetts "Then Mr. Paul and I got together quickly and that was it. Naturally, I'm happy about it."

Ready To Buy Winner

Baltimore Group Awarded Major League Franchise

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles today set up in business as a major league club for the first time in 50 years, pouring thousands of dollars in fresh money into the American League's weakest franchise

In 62 swift minutes last evening a syndicate of wealthy Baltimore industrialists headed by Clarence W. Miles bought control of the impoverished St Louis Browns for $2,475,000, agreed to pay outstanding debts of about $600,000 and announced they would spend "all the money we can" to transform the seventh-place team into a winner

Miles' associates, who include brewery, munitions and airplane executives, obtained control of the Browns from Bill Veeck at the end of three days wrangling in the most convincing fashion—by producing cold cash when other interested parties were having trouble getting up the ante.

Between Sunday night, when the American League turned them down, and last evening the Baltimoreans increased their immediate bid by more than 1½ million dollars

Money made the difference Although Baltimore alone among the seven cities under consideration offered a suitable major league ball park and a concrete proposal when the civic delegations were received by the American League on Sunday, only four clubs voted in favor of the move on the first ballot

A three-hour league session Monday brought a proposal by Del Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees, to negotiate for Veeck's stock on behalf of unnamed West Coast interests. Miles' group immediately announced plans to match the bid Originally they had been dickering for only half of Veeck's stock

Yesterday Webb ruefully reported failure and acknowledged that the Baltimore deal was the best available He made the motion to approve it.

He did win one concession for the West—a change in the league constitution providing for a 10-team circuit at a time when it would be feasible to include such Pacific Coast cities as Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The Baltimore syndicate, admittedly feeling its way as far as actual baseball operations go, sidestepped neatly most of the queries on immediate plans

"We have just gotten a ball club," Miles said. "It looked Sunday as if we were licked. The change came suddenly. We've got a lot to learn.

"We will spend all the money we can to improve the team. Jack Dunn, president of the Baltimore team from the International League, will be associated with us"

Dunn has been mentioned as a likely prospect for the post of general manager.

Veeck apparently emerged from his St. Louis venture ahead financially. Backed by a group of Chicago investment bankers, he paid about $1,800,000 for his Browns' stock. He estimated his losses during 2½ seasons at upwards of $750,000

Yet he sold Sportsmans' Park for $800,000 to the St Louis Cardinals, received almost 2½ million for the franchise and a reported $300,000 from the Cardinals for leaving town This last figure, never confirmed nor denied by the Cards, was disclosed yesterday in St. Louis by the Post Dispatch.

Veeck, jokingly referring to his profit as "ill-gotten loot," said he made "very little" money on the deal He declined to specify exact amounts. Neither did he indicate any plans.

Action To Open In Junior High Football Loop

Junior High School football action opens in Marion Thursday afternoon.

Eber Baker meets Robert A Taft in the opening Marion Junior High School Football League contest at the Edison field at 4 p m. Edison's first league game is next Monday.

Thursday's game will mark the opening of play in a new league. Called the Mar-Del League last season, Delaware, which was the fourth team in the loop, dropped out. Each squad will be meeting the other two teams twice during league play before all participate in the Round Robin at the stadium Friday night, Oct. 23.

Vernon Junior High School, whose students now attend Eber Baker, took the Mar-Del League title last season with Edison in the runner-up spot and State Street, now Robert A. Taft, coming in third. Delaware was last. However, Edison won the Round Robin by defeating State Street and Vernon in a pair of abbreviated games.

Coaching Changes

A change in the coaching ranks at two of the schools has occurred since last season. Don Zeisler is the coach at Eber Baker this season, to Harding, and Marion Waits is mentor at Robert A. Taft. Don replacing Jim Lawler who went Hertler, coach there last year is coaching at North Canton George Whitehead is back to lend his Edison charges through another season

All junior high league games will be played on the Edison field and will begin promptly at 4 p.m. this year The local junior high schools used the stadium last year, but Harding High School practices on it this year.

Zeisler is apparently set at Eber Baker where he welcomes a host of certificate winners from last year's championship squad. Experienced players back include Dick Ulery, Larry Henry, Tom Bland, Gene Somerlot, Larry Gamble, Bill Smith, Jack Noggle Dave DeWolfe, Dick Dennis, Bill Schnauffer and John Bull.

Whitehead faces a complete rebuilding job at Edison where only one certificate winner is back Garry Williams is the lone certificate winner. Other experienced footballers back are Glen Downs, John Guthrie, Charles Shukest, Hollis Whittington, Phil Sykes, Russell James, Garrison McGinnis and Bill Martin

Waits is short on certificate winners at Taft where only about four return Veterans back include Gene Remmy, Bill Dozier, R C. Pickens, Elija Green, Frank Hook, Jerry Pask and Dick Wilson

Round Robin Set

The Round Robin schedule is already set up. Baker will take on Taft in the first game, Edison will meet Baker in the second contest and Taft will challenge Edison in the final tilt. Each team will be playing two halves of football. Action is slated to start at 7 p.m.

The remaining league schedule is Monday, Oct. 5— Baker vs Edison; Thursday, Oct 8—Edison vs Taft; Monday, Oct. 12—Taft vs Baker; Thursday, Oct. 15—Edison vs Baker; and Monday, Oct. 19—Taft vs. Edison.

BIDS FOR END POST

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—Sophomore Bruce Benner of Massillon, Ohio, is pressing Dick Mathewson, Plainfield, N. J., junior, for the starting end assignment on the Cornell football team. Benner caught a scoring pass yesterday in a scrimmage game preparatory to Saturday's game with Rice Institute

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Ohio football fans are keeping a close watch on the football fortunes of Wittenberg College this year where Coach Tom Ness has introduced a new offensive formation called the W.

Ness, a native of Galion where he was graduated from high school, describes the W formation as being 'roughly a double-wing with a balanced line' The quarterback and fullback will be back in position to receive the pass from center and to pass, run, fake or handoff to each other or to either of the halfbacks

SHORT

The Lutherans' coach was graduated at Galion in 1918 and enrolled at Wittenberg where he put in three years of varsity action. During his senior year in 1923, he was captain of the grid squad.

NESS WENT BACK to Wittenberg three years ago and took along a record as one of Ohio's top prep school mentors. During 26 years at Lakewood, Portsmouth, Greenville and Miamisburg, his teams notched 173 wins while losing 67 and being tied 19 times

Now in his fourth year as football coach and athletic director at Wittenberg, he has bettered the Lutherans 'gridiron fortunes steadily since his arrival. His team last year posted the best mark since the school's undefeated-untied campaign in 1940.

THE GALION native says his team this season will use fewer plays but will "know them better." He also is one of the few college coaches who stand up and say they are in favor of the limited substitution rule.

Ness is recognized as a tough taskmaker by his grid team. He drills them constantly in gentlemanly conduct but insists on them giving their all. He is a strong believer in teaching of fundamentals and Wittenberg teams are recognized as one of the best blocking squads in the state. He insists his players reach a 'football state of mind' and eat, sleep and talk football the year around.

Following his graduation from Wittenberg, Ness gained his masters degree at Ohio State in 1947. He is chairman of the Wittenberg athletic department and holds the rank of associate professor He also is coach of the school's golf team.

DURING HIS coaching career, Ness has attended schools and clinics to study under some of the nation's top football coaches These teachers include Bob Zuppk Gil Dobie, George Little, Glen S. Warner, Knute Rockne, Fielding Yost, Lynn Waldorf, Francis Schmidt and Bernie Bierman.

Bucyrus Water Supply Is Reported Adequate

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus has an adequate water supply although the level in one of the city's two reservoirs is "fairly low," Roy Riley, superintendent of the municipal waterworks, announced here today.

Riley said the city's present supply of water should be adequate until the middle of November, even if the present dry spell continues

At the present time, the city is pumping about 1,000,000 gallons of water a week from the Sandusky River compared with about 4,000,000 gallons a week, pumped from the river during a corresponding period a year ago.

The current daily water consumption is about 1,650,000 gallons, considerably under the August peak of 2,200,000 gallons, Riley pointed out.

SENT WRITTEN GREETING

When the Marion County Chapter of the Ohio Retired Teachers Association met last Saturday afternoon, the group received written greetings from Lester L. Dickey, superintendent of city schools, who was unable to be present because of other duties. It was stated incorrectly in Tuesday night's Star that he addressed the group

Hayes Not Worried

Cassady Shakes Off Injury, May Start Against Bears

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, flashy Ohio State halfback, appears to be a cinch to have the last laugh on team physicians who last Saturday predicted he would miss two or three games.

The spunky sophomore injured his shoulder in the premiere against Indiana and doctors made with the warning growls.

But Hoppy, swathed in bandages, grinned and said, "Don't let 'em fool you, I'll be in there Saturday"

Today it looks as though he was right.

Walter Duffee, Ohio State team physician, said yesterday he believes Cassady's shoulder will be well enough to let him see action in Berkeley.

Coach Woody Hayes wasn't committing himself—but he indicated the fleet, hard-hitting halfback might even start.

Hoppy who took part in light drills Monday, worked out on defensive maneuvers yesterday—and without pads.

Hayes doesn't seem worried about the halfback situation even if Cassady shouldn't play.

Sophomore Jerry Harkrader, the highly touted Middletown speedster, and Carroll Howell, the stocky junior from Portsmouth, have been showing well in Cassady's left halfback slot.

Harkrader is picking up the necessary defensive polish and Howell already is a smooth performer on defense Both are also rugged on the attack.

How to improve your appearance

What kind of hair do you have?
Heavy hair may call for heavy grease. But if you have "medium to fine" hair as most men have—according to a recent nationwide survey—Vitalis Hair Cream is the right answer to your problem.

For "medium to fine" hair
Yes, Vitalis Hair Cream is a new formula specially compounded for the 7 out of 10 men with hair on the fine side. It holds that kind of hair in place perfectly . . . makes it look naturally healthier.

Non-alcoholic...Not greasy
No alcohol in Vitalis Hair Cream to evaporate. No mineral oil to stick fine hair together so it looks thin. Homogenized . . . shaker-top bottle . . . washes off hands and comb with plain water.

Hair stays neat all day
Pure vegetable oils in Vitalis Hair Cream hold hair in place . . . yet give none of that gooey shine that shouts, "Don't touch!" Your hair stays natural-looking—keeps the handsome neatness you want.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—Heyden Chemical enlivened a dull stock market today with a three-point spurt on news of a new anti-biotic.

As a general rule the market moved within a point range either way with the accent on lower primes.

Heyden started higher with a rush and continued very active with an extreme gain of 3 points. Yesterday it was up 1¼ in light trading.

Considerable mystery surrounded the early rush ahead by the stock. It wasn't dispelled until the president of Heyden issued a statement saying a new broad spectrum anti-biotic had been developed. Details were meager.

Trading was at a pace around a million shares for the entire day. That compares with 1,170,000 shares traded yesterday.

Unchanged to lower were railroads, utilities, steels, motors, oils, coppers chemicals, radio-television and air lines. None was under selling pressure.

Aircrafts were pepped up by a gain of around 2 points by Douglas Aircraft.

Lower stocks included Santa Fe, American Telephone, U. S. Steel, General Motors, Goodrich, Anaconda Copper, Eastern Air Lines, Dow Chemical, American Can, and Zenith.

GEE, ZERO—THAT RUNAWAY TRUCK MADE AN AWFUL MESS OUTA MR. COBB'S WAGON— I GUESS NOBODY NOR NOTHIN' COULD EVER FIX IT UP AGAIN—
MR. COBB— YOU SHOULDN'T BE WORKIN'— YOU MIGHT HURT YOUR LEG!
DON'T WORRY A MITE ABOUT MY LEG— IT'S SMARTER THAN I AM AND WORKS HARDER THAN I DO—
HOW KIN A LEG BE SMART— OR DO ANYTHING BUT REST ??

Steve Canyon — By Milton Caniff

OUR COMRADE ON THE JAIL STAFF REPORTS THAT A SOVIET AGENT PASSING THROUGH OUR MISERABLE COUNTRY HAS BEEN JAILED BY THE UNSPEAKABLE POLICE!
OUR POSITION IS CLEAR! WE MUST STORM THE JAIL AND RELEASE HIM! I MYSELF WOULD LEAD THE ASSAULT, BUT, AS YOU ALL KNOW, I AM NEARSIGHTED!
IF THIS IS TRUE, IT WOULD RAISE US IN THE EYES OF THE KREMLIN... AND WE COULD USE A BIT OF PRESTIGE...
IF IT IS NOT TRUE, WE MAY ALL END OUR DAYS UPON THE GALLOWS! AND THERE WAS NO WORD IN ADVANCE TO EXPECT A MAN FROM MOSCOW!
MEANWHILE—
THE MASTA JAILER DIRECTS THAT THE RUSSIAN SPY BE PUT TEMPORARILY AMONG THE CONDEMNED PRISONERS!
THE DAUGHTERS OF THE FRENCH AND U.S. CONSULS ARE BEING SHOWN THROUGH THE JAIL!
IT IS WELL—THE FIRST SHOW OF THE YEAR ALWAYS DEPRESSES ME!
INSIDE, RUSSIAN!
....BUT STEVE HAS BEEN DOING SOMETHING THE GUARDS DID NOT NOTICE...

Electrolysis Blamed For Spots on Fabrics

CHAMPAIGN, Ill (UP) — Electrolysis causes holes and brown spots in many washable fabrics says Florence King University of Illinois textile expert

Research showed that spots and holes sometimes appeared in garments with zippers made of two different metals such as copper and aluminum

When the garment is wet and in close contact with these metals, electrolysis takes place Enough acid is given off to damage the fabric A conductor of electricity must be present This may be minerals found in hard water salt found in some liquid starch, or detergent left by insufficient rinsing

To avoid brown-spot damage Miss King suggested letting the garment dry to the damp stage, then ironing it without rolling it up

If the garment must be dampened, leave the section around the zipper dry Sponge it lightly with water before ironing

NEST ALARM

ELKHART, Ind (UP) — Elkhart firemen answered an alarm that was strictly for the birds Arriving at the scene, they found several abandoned bird nests blazing in a neon sign which was turned on accidentally after being out of use for some time
